GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENDS ITS WORK AMID SCENES OF HARMONY

The Two Bodies Adjourned Sine Die Last Night at 9:40 O'clock.

SENATE APPOINTS A COMMITTEE ON "WIVES"

House Recedes From Its Position on Liquor Taxes as Regards Social Clubs and Dining Cars. Members of Both Houses Join in Song.

The general assembly of Georgia was adjourned sine die at exactly 9:40 o'clock last night.

During the evening session, the last discord in the house on the general tax bill gave way to harmony by the recession of the house from its position on liquor taxes as regards social clubs and dining cars. One or two other bills were passed, but most of the evening was given over to felicities of one sort or another, including the presentation of a handsome gold-headed cane to Mr. Hall, of Bibb, by the new county committee.

After the final adojournment, the members began bidding each other farewell, while a large group gathered in the center aisle and sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" and "The Old-Time Religion."

House Night Session.

After the roll call, a letter from Chaplain Timmons expressing his appreciations of the courtesies extended him and his high esteem for the members, as well as commendation of their conduct personally and toward each other.

At the conclusion of the reading of this letter, Mr. Saffold, of Emanuel, offered a resolution of sympathy for Dr. Timmons in his present ill health, and wishes for his speedy recovery.

The committees to visit the University of Georgia and its branches ad interim were then announced.

Mr. Holder, of Jackson, stated that the standing committee on University of Georgia had unanimously selected as chairman of the visiting committee, although he noticed that the speaker had changed this and made Mr. Rucker chairman. The visiting committees announced were as follows:

Committee ad interim on University of Georgia and its branches:

University of Georgia—Rucker, chairman; Conner, Martin, McRae, Lawrence, Hardman, Stovall of Chatham, Calvin, Jackson of Jones, and Speaker Slaton.

State Normal School, at Athens—Hall, chairman; McMillin, Johnson of Baker, Russell, and Knight of Berrien.

Industrial Normal School at Milledgeville—Hines, chairman; Steed, of Carroll; Mitchell, of Thomas; Overstreet and Williams, of Madison.

Technological School at Atlanta—Nowell, chairman; Blackburn, Cook, of Oconee; Persons and McLennan.

North Georgia Agricultural School at Dahlonega—Holder, of Jackson, chairman; Schultz, Alexander, Flynt and Wright, of Floyd.

House Recedes Again.

Reports of the conference committee on the taxes on social and fraternal clubs selling or furnishing liquor to members and on dining cars on which liquors are sold were then read. It was moved by Mr. Wise, of Fayette, in each instance that the house recede from its position and accept the senate amendments. Mr. Wright, of Floyd, protested as to both amendments, but the house voted to recede, fixing the tax in each instance at $300.

A resolution offered by Mr. Brinson, of Decatur, fixing the hour of adjournment sine die at 9:30 o'clock was adopted.

A bill by Senator Miller, of the twenty-fourth, amending an act for taking affidavits outside the state was passed, as was a resolution by Senator Lumsden, of the twenty-third, providing for a conference between the governors of Georgia and South Carolina in regard to certain disputed boundaries between Habersham county, Georgia, and Oconee county, South Carolina.

A bill by Senator Crum, of the fourteenth, providing for an increase in the salary of the state entomologist from $1,000 to $2,000 was read, but tabled on motion of Mr. Wright, of Floyd.

Regard for the Speaker.

A resolution expressing friendship, regard and gratitude for Speaker Slaton was offered by Mr. Brinson, of Decatur, and adopted amid great applause by a standing vote, Speaker Pro Tem. Dunbar being in the chair at the moment.

Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, then rose and in a few eloquent sentences said that he wished on behalf of the new county committee to present a token of esteem and admiration for the distinguished chairman, Mr. Hall, of Bibb. The house rose into tremendous applause as Mr. Anderson handed to Mr. Hall a magnificent gold-headed cane. Mr. Hall responded with expressions of sincere thanks for the tribute and esteem for the character and ability of the members of the new county committee.

A resolution extending the thanks of the house to Clerk Bolfeuillet was offered by Mr. Mann, of Dougherty, and adopted amid the accompaniment of hearty cheers.

Secretary Northen, of the senate, brought in a message that the senate was ready to adjourn sine die. A bill by Senator Williams, of the eighteenth, was then read and passed, the bill extending the open season for shad fishing one month and extending the close season for deer shooting to September 1 of each year.

Mr. Brinson then offered another resolution extending the hour of adjournment to 4 o'clock. Mr. Wright, of Floyd, then said:

"I have expressed our opinion of the

SENATE FIGURE IS AGREED TO ON LIQUOR TAX

House Gives In, After Hard Battle, and Agrees to $300 License.

MANY WHO VOTED FOR $500 ACCEPTED LOWER AMOUNT

This Left General Assembly With Little to Do at Night Session. Vote Was Watched With Great Interest—Senate Singing Disturbed House.

The big question was settled at yesterday afternoon's session of the house. The body receded from its position on the liquor tax, came to the senate's terms of $300 on all barrooms and dispensaries, and put itself in shape to adjourn after a short night session.

No more interesting vote has been witnessed at the present session than that on the motion of Mr. Felder, of Bibb, that the house recede from its disagreement to the senate amendment reducing the liquor tax from $500 to $300.

This vote came after a battle royal in which Mr. Wright, of Floyd; Mr. Covington, of Colquitt, and Mr. Kelly, of Glascock, fought with all their might for the retention of the high tax, while Messrs. Felder; Wise, of Fayette; Anderson, of Chatham, and others were equally determined in the other direction.

The high tax men appealed to the house to stand to its action, even if an extra session were necessary, and to put the burden of it on the senate.

The other side took a plain business view of the matter, stated it was a question of dollars and cents and not of prohibition, and appealed to the house to accept the increase of $100 which the senate had offered without further fight.

And the business view of it won, for many who had voted determinedly for the $500 tax, came over and cast their votes to accept the senate's proposition, the vote for the $300 tax standing 80 to 67.

This was the last serious point of disagreement between the house and senate, and left little to be done at the night session but to agree to the senate amendments also reducing the tax on social clubs and steamboat companies to $300.

The other features of the general tax bill were settled by the conference committees with little difficulty. The cigarette tax was put back at $10 and some minor amendments were made to the packing house tax.

There were two conference committees on the general tax act. Both of them reported their inability to agree on the liquor tax, and it was after the report of the second committee had been made to the house that Mr. Felder made his motion, which was carried.

The discussion of the liquor tax amendment came up at the afternoon session upon a resolution by Mr. Davis, of Burke, that the general assembly adjourn sine die at 6 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Wright Fought It.

Mr. Wright, of Floyd, vigorously opposed the resolution. He characterized it as an effort to force the house to yield in the matter of the liquor tax.

Mr. Wise, of Fayette, tried to get the floor to make a motion to table the resolution, but Mr. Wright refused to yield as he wanted to debate it.

Mr. Wright appealed to the house to "stand pat" on the $500 tax.

"Let's stand here all night, if necessary, before we give in to the senate on this matter," said Mr. Wright, "and in the morning let the governor call an extra session. We will put the burden on the senate for this expense. Let's let 'em know the time has come when the 111 dry counties of this state are no longer going to submit to the domination of 26 liquor counties."

Mr. Wise declared he had no intention of cutting Mr. Wright off from debate. He simply wanted to dispose of the resolution so that the general assembly could dispose of the liquor question in such time as it saw fit. He made the motion in good faith, he said, and he renewed it.

The resolution to adjourn at 6 o'clock was then tabled.

Felder Makes Motion.

Mr. Felder, of Bibb, then moved that the house recede from its disagreement to the senate amendment fixing the tax at $300. Mr. Felder said the gentleman from Floyd had proven more obstinate than the senate. The senate had increased the tax $100, making a concession of 50 per cent in the liquor tax. While the senate had yielded this much, the gentleman from Floyd had stated he would see an extra session called before he would give up 5 cents of the tax. The $500 tax was an unjust one, Mr. Felder said. He appealed to the house to vote for the senate amendment.

Mr. Wise appealed to the house to accept the senate amendment as a business proposition. The proper thing to do

SLAV PEOPLE GIVEN RIGHT TO BE HEARD

Czar Nicholas Issues Ukase Calling for Formation of National Assembly.

FIRST SESSION OF DOUMA IS CALLED FOR JANUARY

In Manifesto Given Out Yesterday Russian Emperor Tells His People of Great Blessings He Has Prepared for His Subjects.

St. Petersburg, August 19.—Russia's national representative assembly, the fruit of decades of stress and striving for reform, which endows the Russian people with the right of being consulted through their chosen representatives in the suggestion, preparation and repeal of legislation, today takes its place among the fundamental institutions of the empire.

In a solemn manifesto Emperor Nicholas announces this morning to his subjects the fruition of his plans summoning the representatives of the people as outlined by him in a rescript issued on March 3 last, and fixes the date for the first convocation as mid-January, and in a ukase, addressed to the senate, formally orders that body to register as the imperial will a law project, formulating the nature, powers and procedure of the new governmental organization.

Will Celebrate Event.

The manifesto, ukase and project are published this morning in special editions of The Offficial Messenger in St. Petersburg and Moscow. They will be given out for publication at noon to all the newspapers throughout the empire, many of which are preparing to issue extra edition to signalize a momentous historical event, overshadowing in importance the liberation of the serfs in 1861.

The national assembly will be a consultative organization in connection with the counsel of the empire, and not a legislative body. The powers of the emperor remain theoretically absolute. As the emperor is the supreme law giver and autocrat, the decisions of the douma have only a recommendatory and not a binding force, though the rejection of any legislative measures by a two-thirds majority of both houses is sufficient to prevent that measure from becoming law.

The representatives of the people will have not only the right to be heard on any legislation proposed by the government, but also can voice their desires on new laws and will have the right to exert a certain supervision over budgetary expenditures.

The suffrage, though wide, is not universal. It is based on property qualification, the peasantry having a vote through membership in communal organizations.

A considerable portion of the residents of the cities, possessing no lands, together with women, soldiers, civil functionaries, etc., are without suffrage.

JUDGE RUSSELL AT ELBERTON.

Will Address the People in Behalf of His Candidacy.

Elberton, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Tomorrow a big barbecue will be given in the flatwoods, at which several prominent men will be present. Judge R. B. Russell has wired an acceptance and will make an address in behalf of his candidacy for governor. On the 22d Hon. Hoke Smith will make an address in Elberton.

TWO MEN SHOT AS RESULT OF ATTACK ON MRS. OUTZE

Both Negroes and Both Refused to Halt When Ordered by Posse.

ONE NEGRO BROUGHT BEFORE MRS. OUTZE

But She Failed to Identify Him and He Was Released—Large Reward Offered and Posses Are Still Scouring the Country.

Thomasville, Ga., August 18.—(Special.) Two men have already been shot as a result of the assaulting of Mrs. Charles Outze here yesterady by Manuel Harder, one of them Jonas Robinson, seriously. Both men were shot by posses because they refused to obey the order to halt and ran, evidently trying to escape and thereby casting suspicion on themselves. Harder himself is still at large.

Early this morning twenty-seven men returned from Way's still, 13 miles from town, bringing with them a negro whom they went down from here during the night to capture. The man seemed to answer the description of the rapist almost to a nicety, but cool heads in the crowd would allow nothing to be done with him until Mrs. Outze had a chance to identify him. He was taken before her and she unhesitatingly declared him not the man.

Negro Ran and Was Shot.

Two large parties then spread out over the suspected territory. One of these parties, led by Deputy Sheriff Singletary, Marshal Stevens, of Thomasville, and Officer Martin, came upon at noon a suspicious looking negro house. They searched the house and asked its inmates if they had seen any strangers. They answered in the negative, but acted queerly and the search was extended to include the premises. A negro was discovered the negro started to run.

As soon as he realized that he was discovered thenegro started to run.

Marshal Stevens ordered him to halt, but instead of doing so, he only quickened his pace. After repeatedly ordering the man to halt, the marshal opened fire, and was joined in the pursuit by other members of the possee, many of them firing. The negro ran a mile and was finally headed off. He was found to have a number of small shot in his left hand and arm. He would not say why he ran instead of stopping as ordered. He was brought to town and put in jail until his wound heals. He has been identified positively as not Harder.

Didn't Hear Order and Was Shot.

The second negro was shot about the same time by the sheriff's posse near Metcalfe. It is said that the negro who is well known in the vicinity, and one of the best known negroes in the country, had let his mule get away and was running him. The posse happened to see him just at this moment, and, not seeing the mule, they thought he was running from them. They cried to him to halt. But, intent on his own chase, he evidently did not hear the order and kept on running. Fire was opened and the negro dropped, badly hurt. When the unfortunate mistake was discovered, a message was sent to Thomasville for a doctor, and every attention possible given him.

Well authenticated reports seem to indicate that Harder is in the neighborhood where this negro was shot. A $200 reward has been offered for Harder by the governor, and this is supplemented by the family to the extent of $50.

Seen in Lowndes County.

Valdosta, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—There is the best of reasons for believing that Emanuel Harter, the negro assailant of Mrs. Charles Outz, of Thomasville, spent last night at Chandler's still, in this county, 5 miles from here. A negro filling the description perfectly as to size, color, age and scarred lip was there last night and told the negroes of the place that he had trouble with a woman at Thomasville and had shot at a white man. He stated that he was going toward Dasher station, or Jacksonville. He left about daylight without sleeping at all during the night. The officers here are confident that he is the negro wanted, and they are doing everything possible to locate him.

GUERRY-SMITH CONTROVERSY

A Denial Is Entered By Mr. Hoke Smith.

But He Omits All Reference to the Letters Asked for by Mr. Guerry. Assumed That Letters Will Be Furnished by Mr. Guerry.

Hon. Hoke Smith furnished to the press for publication yesterday afternoon a reply to the statement issued by Hon. Dupont Guerry on Thursday, the substance of Mr. Smith's reply being a denial that he had sent Hon. Bartow S. Willingham, of Monroe county, to request Mr. Guerry to make the race for governor in 1902 and to promise Mr. Guerry his (Mr. Smith's) support of Mr. Guerry's candidacy.

In his statement of Thursday Mr. Guerry wrote:

"To the Public: In compliance with the request of the Hon. Hoke Smith, made in his speech at Warrenton yesterday, I name as the mutual friend whom he got to visit me and request me to run (for the gubernatorial nomination in 1902), and to whom I referred in my telegram to the Hon. J. W. F. Lowrey on the 10th instant, the Hon. Bartow S. Willingham, of Monroe.

"In turn I ask Mr. Smith to publish at once the letters he said in the same speech I wrote to him and Mr. Henry C. Peeples, one asking Mr. Smith's support, and the other asking Mr. Peeples to secure that support, together with their replies to the same.

"My inability to communicate with Mr. Willingham on yesterday delayed my action until today.

"DUPONT GUERRY."

Mr. Smith's Reply.

Mr. Smith's reply, given to the press yesterday, is as follows:

"Mr. Dupont Guerry telegraphed Mr. Lowrey that I 'got mutual friends to visit him and request him to run, with assurance that, Brown not running, I and The Journal would support him.'

"In my Warrenton speech I denied that I sent a mutual friend to Mr. Guerry to request him to run. I denied that I gave any one my assurance that I would vote for Mr. Guerry, if Mr. Brown did not run. I denied that I promised him the support of The Atlanta Journal.

"I asked Mr. Guerry to name the mutual friend. He has named Hon. B. S. Willingham, of Forsyth, Ga. My only conversation with Mr. Willingham upon this subject was entirely casual and in the presence of Mr. H. C. Peeples. I repeat every denial made in my Warrenton speech. I did not authorize Mr. Willingham to visit Mr. Guerry and request him to run with the assurance that, Mr. Brown not running, I would support Mr. Guerry. I did not authorize him to promise the support of The Atlanta Journal.

"I cannot make my denial more emphatic."

Efforts to reach Mr. Willingham after the appearance of this denial yesterday afternoon were unavailing owing to Mr. Willingham's absence from his home at Forsyth.

It will be noted that Mr. Smith makes no reference to that portion of Mr. Guerry's statement in which he says:

"In turn I ask Mr. Smith to publish at once the letters he said in the same speech I wrote to him and to Mr. Henry C. Peeples, one asking Mr. Smith's support and the other asking Mr. Peeples to secure that support, together with their replies to the same."

Mr. Smith having failed to furnish these letters and the replies thereto, as requested, it is assumed that they will be furnished by Mr. Guerry.

NEW INCREASE IN DEATH ROLL AT NEW ORLEANS

Eight Fever Victims Yesterday Succumbed to Ravages of Yellow Plague.

CITY STILL IN HOPES OF BEATING DISEASE

Total Number of Deaths Small in Comparison With Results of Other Epidemics—Citizens Hope to See Fewer New Cases.

New Orleans, August 18. Official report to 6 p. m.:
New cases	62
Total to date	1,882
Deaths	8
New foci	16
Total to date	278
Number cases under treatment	415

New Orleans, August 18.—Though the number of deaths today from yellow fever exceeded those of each of the past two days, the total was so small in comparison with years when real epidemics prevailed that the situation continues to be regarded as infinitely more bright and hopeful than a month ago, when it first became known that yellow fever had taken firm grip in one of the most thickly populated sections of the city.

At that time notwithstanding repeated warning, no steps had been taken to profit by the example set by Havana and long before, in spite of appeal to the organs of the medical society, the city council had refused to pass Dr. Kohnke's mosquito ordinance which would have caused landlords to screen their cisterns and thus have largely restricted the breeding grounds of the stegomyia.

At that time also New Orleans was in a distressingly insanitary condition and all the conditions seemed favorable for an exceptionally high death rate in August, which always heretofore has been one of the most fatal months of the epidemic season. The fact that under all the adverse conditions, the fever has been prevented from attaining the prospectus of a seriously fatal epidemic is considered little less than remarkable.

Nothing at present indicates any change from the present mild form of the disease and the health authorities are inclined to believe that so thorough are the preparations already made for the future, that, barring entirely unexpected conditions, there is no further occasion for alarm.

Dr. White went over some portions of the infected district today. He saw few features of the work that have not already been described. Reports to his headquarters from the emergency hospital indicate a steady improvement there in conditions due to the fact that the work is so perfectly organized now that with many of the patients who are brought in there is a chance to save their lives. At the beginning a considerable proportion of those taken to the hospital arrived there is a moribund condition.

Among the new squares that have been infected is that in which the supreme and civil district courts and the St. Louis cathedral are located. Heretofore, the disease has merely infringed it without invading, but a number of Italians are

BLACKEST PESSIMISM FELT AT PORTSMOUTH

Both Sides Said to Be Immovable and Unless Outside Influence Can Be Brought to Bear All Hope of Peace is Lost.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 19.—At midnight Assistant Secretary Peirce was hurriedly called to the Hotel Wentworth, where a message was awaiting him from the president. He immediately wrote a lengthy reply. Later he was called to the telegraph instrument, and for half an hour carried on a conversation by telegraph with the president, who was at the other end of the wire at Oyster Bay.

At 12:50 a. m. the telegraphic conversation with the president ceased and Mr. Peirce left the hotel in his automobile. He said he was going home, but beyond that, declined to make any statement. "I can tell you nothing," he said to all the anxious inquiries of the newspaper men.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 19.—The Associated Press has reason to believe that the purpose of the president's conversation with Mr. Pierce was to arrange for one of the Russians to go to Oyster Bay. The president is understood to be already in communication with the Japanese through Baron Kaneko. Mr. Roosevelt is undoubtedly prepared to make a last effort to induce the warring countries to compromise.

FRAZIER'S AUTO WRECKED; SENATOR BURIED IN SWAMP

NEW YORK, August 18.—An automobilist said to have been Governor James B. Frazier, of Tennessee, suffered a wreck today on a steep hill near W. K. Vanderbilt's Idle Hour estate, at Oakdale, Long Island. The automobilist was buried in a swamp and escaped severe injury because of the soft mud. A rear wheel of the car was torn o: and it was otherwise injured. The owner continued on his journey by rail.

RESULTS OBTAINED SO FAR BY WORK OF PEACE ENVOYS

PORSMOUTH, N. H., August 18.—The substance and present status of the Japanese terms are as follows:

1. Russia's recognition of Japan's "preponderant influence in Korea with her right to preserve order in the civil administration, give military and financial advice to the emperor of Korea, Japan binding herself to observe the territorial integrity of Korea and (it is believed) the policy of the open door." Accepted.

2. Mutual obligation to evacuate Manchuria. Accepted.

3. Japanese obligations to restore in Manchuria Chinese sovereignty and civil administration. Accepted.

4. Mutual obligation to respect in the future "the territorial integrity and administrative entity" of China in Manchuria and to maintain the principle of equal opportunity for the industry and commerce of all nations (open door.) Accepted.

5. The cession of the island of Sakhalin to Japan. Refused and final consideration deferred.

6. The surrender to Japan of the Russian leases of the Liao-Tung peninsula, including Port Arthur, Dalny and the Blonde and Elliott islands. Accepted.

7. The surrender to China by arrangement with Japan of the branch of the Chinese eastern railroad, running south from Harbin to Port Arthur and Niuchwang, together with the retrocession of all the privileges obtained under the concession of 1898. Accepted in principle; final agreement deferred.

8. The limitation of the Chinese concession obtained by Mr. Rothstein and Prince Uhktomsky in 1896, under which the "cut off" through northern Manchuria was built to connect the trans-Siberian and Ussurri railroads so as to provide for the retention of the ownership and operation of the line by the Chinese Eastern, but with provision for the eventual substitution of Chinese imperial police for Russian "railroad guards." Accepted.

9. Remuneration for the cost of the war. Refused and action deferred.

10. The surrender of the Russian warships interned in neutral eastern waters. Disagreement and action deferred.

11. The limitation of Russia's naval power on Pacific waters. Under consideration.

12. The grant to the citizens of Japan of the right to fish in waters of the Russian littoral from Vladivostok to the Bering sea. Accepted.

of the peace conference is already sealed; that it has ended in failure, and that all that now remains is for the plenipotentiaries to meet on Tuesday, to which day they adjourned this afternoon upon completing the seriatim consideration of the Japanese terms, sign the final protocol, go through the conventions, and bid each other farewell.

In other words, that the meeting Tuesday will be what diplomacy calls the "seance d'adieu." But there is still room for hope of a compromise. Neither President Roosevelt nor the powers will see that chance of peace shipwrecked without a final effort, and that pressure is being exerted, especially at Tokio, to induce Japan to moderate her terms, is beyond question.

King Edward Giving Aid.

Just what is being done or is to be done has not transpired. King Edward is understood to be now lending a helping hand, and the financiers of the world are known to be exerting all their influence. At Tokio and St. Petersburg, the final issue will be decided.

The Japanese have been implacable throughout the six days sittings. They have listened and explained, but they have yielded not an iota of the substance of their original demands.

Mr. Witte accepted outright seven of the twelve Japanese conditions, one on principle and four including the main issues, indemnity and Sakhalin he rejected. The other two, limitations of naval power and the surrender of interned warships, might have been arranged had there been any prospct of agreement on the two points upon which the divergences seemed irreconcilable.

In the oral discussion of the terms, Mr. Witte yielded upon two articles, but substantially the result of the thirteen sittings of the plenipotentiaries has only been to emphasize the position taken by Mr. Witte in the written reply he presented last Saturday to the Japanese terms.

And now both sides turn to home for the last word before the cards are thrown face upward upon the table next Tuesday, for the impasse reached today by the plenipotentiaries is recognized to be only a diplomatic fiction. If, in the interim, fresh instructions are received by either side, compromise is yet possible.

Chances Very Slim.

But the chances are recognized to be slim. So far as the Russian plenipotentiaries are concerned, there never was a chance of their yielding both indemnity and Sakhalin. The cession of Sakhalin without indemnity was, according to the best inside information, the extreme limit to which Mr. Witte would ever consent to go and the emperor has not yet given the word even to concede that.

And tonight, suddenly, a new factor has been introduced, which, in the opinion of those most competent to judge, lessens materially the chances that he might do so, namely, the issuance of his manifesto granting a popular representative body to his subjects. The bearings of this "historic document," as Mr. Witte described it a few day ago upon the issue, are easily comprehensible. It is bound to ameliorate the internal situation in Russia. It is the entering wedge for the realization of the century-old dream of the Russian people.

"It will create enthusiasm at home," said one of the most prominent members of the Russian mission, "because all thinking men realize that it means eventually a great change in the composition of the Russian state. It will be followed by a true parliament, a responsible ministry, a premier and Russia will become a constitutional monarchy."

Manifesto Well Timed.

It is pointed out that the manifesto is timed like what the French call a coup de foudre and that its significance is too plain to be questioned. It was to have been issued last Saturday, when the Russian reply was presented, but it was held over until the conclusion of the oral consideration of the Japanese terms. Meantime the terms had been published everywhere throughout Russia. The press, even the liberal press, had replied that Russia could not pay money for the privilege of getting out of Manchuria. The emperor had publicly proclaimed to his subjects on July 28 in reply to a telegram of the Oremburg clergy:

"The Russian people can rely upon me. I will never conclude a peace humiliating or unworthy of great Russia."

The manifesto is Emperor Nicholas' answer to the Japanese demand for the payment of a war tribute. The grant of this broad reform is regarded as virtually an appeal to the Russian people for support to resist it.

At Tokio it is impossible to tell what view will be taken. Peace probably can be even now secured by the sacrifice of the indemnity. Vague intimations tonight come from the Japanese side that "the demand for the cost of the war" might be moderate, but M. Witte's reply is that he will pay liberally for the maintenance of the Russian prisoners in Japan, but not a copeck for tribute."

Neither Side Expects Peace.

The gravity of the situation from the Japanese point of view is contained in the following authoritative statement given to the Associated Press:

"I cannot say positively because all things are possible, but I fear that the meeting on Tuesday will be the farewell session of the Washington conference. Japan has done her utmost for peace. Russia now knows Japan's irreducible minimum."

M. Witte himself tonight gave not the slightest encouragement. For publication he said: "We meet Tuesday only to sign the protocol," with the accent on the word "only." Another bad sign was the change in the personal attitude of the plenipotentiaries toward each other. During the wee kthey have been growing more and more friendly at the luncheon which they take together at the navy yard. This conversation was lively and even gay at times. Today they sat together and ate in silence. All seemed strangely constrained as if realizing they could only agree to disagree and that the war must go on. Tonight the situation can be summed up in a single sentence—prompt and heroic action by outside influence alone can save the conference.

CANNOT CHANGE STOCK LAW.

Secretary Wilson Says Some Roads Have Disregarded Regulation.

Washington, August 18.—Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, returned to Washington today from Chicago, where, in company with Dr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, he conducted an investigation of complaints against the new regulations governing the shipment of stock under the 28-hour law.

This law requires that at the end of that time stock in transit must be taken from the cars and fed and watered, unless the cars are equipped for feeding and watering according to regulations of the department.

"Some of the railroads are observing the regulations with good grace, while others are making the 28-hour law as obnoxious as they can," said the secretary. "Shippers and railroads have asked for modifications of the regulations, but I am inclined to think that the changes we have made are as lenient as possible under the present law. I have no authority to disregard the law."

May Extend Limit.

The secretary, in response to an inquiry whether he will ask congress for a modification of the law in order to give the shippers and railroads the relief they demand, said he was inclined to think the time limit might be extended on hauls in territory west of the Missouri river, but that east of the Missouri river an extension of time is not advisable.

WILL PROBE DISMISSALS.

Charged That Mayor Weaver Dropped Employees Without Cause.

Philadelphia, August 18.—The select branch of city council passed a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of seven with full power to investigate the removal of all officers and employees of the city during the last three months. The resolution gives the committee full power to summon witnesses and employ counsel and such other assistance as may be deemed necessary. The resolution was introduced by Milton C. Work, who explained that two directors of departments, several bureau chiefs and several hundred employees have been dismissed from the service of the city without the mayor giving any reason to council as required by the laws governing the city.

Will Meet in Dallas.

Duluth, Minn., August 18.—Dallas, Tex., was chosen today as the place for holding the next annual convention by the International Association of Fire Engineers. The Texas city received 87 votes; Louisville 45, and Niagara Falls 28. John Stagg, of Paterson, N. J., was chosen president; George H. Kellogg, of Sioux City, Iowa, vice president; M. E. Higgins, of Albany, second vice president; James McFall, of Roanoke, Va., secretary, and D. C. Larkin, of Dayton, Ohio, treasurer.

Patrolling the Coast.

Mobile, Ala., August 18.—The big revenue cutter Hamilton, Captain Hanks, in charge of the marine hospital service, is patrolling the Alabama coast outside of Mobile bay. This action is taken to prevent suspicious craft coming in from New Orleans. The Hamilton is also guarding the harbor of Pensacola.

NEW INCREASE IN DEATH ROLL

now down with the fever in a row of ancient houses standing near the civil district court building. Extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent any further infection of the square. Many lawyers daily visit it, as do a large number of Catholics attending services at the cathedral.

False Rumors Sent Abroad.

Considerable feeling has been aroused over the circulation of reports, attributed representatives of railroad lines which do not operate into New Orleans to the effect that the quarantines against the city have affected the handling of freight passing from the interior of the United States through this port.

Letters on the subject, which are to be widely distributed, have been prepared by freight agents of the New Orleans Northwestern, Mobile and Ohio, Illinois Central, Mississippi Valley, Frisco and Louisville and Nashville lines.

They show that all freight trains operating south are being handled without detention, and that all shipments are being made from New Orleans as usual. The regulations prohibit in some instances and restrict in others the movement of northbound shipments from here to local points but the movement of southbound trains is perfectly free.

It is also made plain that all the steamship lines to Mexico, Havana, Vera Cruz, Great Britain and Europe are in operation, and assurances are given that they will continue their service absolutely without any interruption.

Facts and figures have also been presented to show that the reports printed elsewhere that there is demoralization of labor on the levee are also without foundation. None of the laboring population, outside of the Italians, who were principally employed on the fruit ships, have left the city.

Dr. Juan Guiteras has made a favorable impression here upon the audiences he has addressed, and Dr. Warner and Dr. White have pressed him into service to speak as often as possible during his visit. Dr. Guiteras spoke at two meetings tonight.

Guiteras Talks of Cuba.

In describing conditions at Havana, Dr. Guiteras said that since 1901 yellow fever patients arriving at Havana have constantly been taken through the busiest streets in screened ambulances without a single case of fever having developed in the city. In cases where the fever victims were accompanied by companions, by husbands or wives, fathers or mothers, these companions have been allowed to occupy the same room with the yellow fever patients without bad results.

In one case, where a man remained with his wife until she died, so certain was it felt that the disease could not be transmitted by any other means than the mosquito, that he was permitted to walk out into the busiest streets of Havana within an hour after his wife's death. Dr. Guiteras said his own daughter, born in North Carolina, and not an immune, often visited the yellow fever patients without harm to herself, and that the daughter of the president of the republic, also a non-immune, was likewise an earnest worker in the yellow fever work, and had never been infected. Dr. Guiteras said he thought the fight here, if it was kept up, was certain to be successful.

Advices from the Mississippi coast do not at present indicate any intention on the part of the towns to raise the quarantines against New Orleans, or even to modify them. Pass Christian and Biloxi have both completely bottled themselves up, and all the resorts have put up the bars against Mississippi City.

As the tying up of the Gulf and Ship Island railroad makes it impossible for the towns to hold any communication with the rest of the state, however, it is supposed that with continued improvement here an understanding looking to modified communication will be reached. Meantime the advices which reach here indicate that the fever at Mississippi City is of the same mild type as that generally prevailing in this city.

Some apprehension is felt among householders that they will suffer heavy personal loss through damage to silver and brass ware, pianos, organs and other musical instruments and clothing, if they follow strictly the instructions concerning the proposed general fumigation of premises in Sunday. Sulphur burned in large quantities, it is pointed by correspondents, writing to the newspapers, is calculated seriously to injure such articles. Drs. White, Guiteras and Metz, however, have given very explicit directions as to how householders may protect themselves, and it is expected that there will be a pretty general response to the appeal.

Outside News Unfavorable.

News from outside the city continues unfavorable. Dr. Brady, the medical inspector of the state board, who is also health officer of Jefferson parish, spent most of the day in his own parish on a still hunt, and found several cases. He found one case in Hanson City, just above Kenner; two cases in Shrewsbury, which is 5 miles from New Orleans, and one case in McDonoughville, across the river from New Orleans.

Dr. Brady also visited Pecan Grove plantation in St. Charles parish and found five cases in two houses.

Past Assistant Surgeon Corput went to Terre Haute plantation, in St. Charles parish, and supervised the work of erecting an emergency hospital there. It will be ready for occupancy in a day or two.

Patterson reports six new cases and no death.

Alexandria's one patient, G. J. Haydel, died today.

Dr. Goldsberger, of the marine hospital service, has been assigned to take charge of the work in Alexandria.

Dr. J. A. Devron left for Thibodeaux this morning to visit the nest of infection at the mouth of Bayou La Fourche. It will be impossible to hear from him for, at least, three days.

There were no new cases at Mississippi City.

Trains Abandoned.

Jacksonville, Miss., August 18.—(Special.)—One of the most serious features of the reign of the quarantine in Mississippi is the abandonment of train service. Not a railroad in the state is running its usual quota of freight or passenger trains, and with each succeeding day the service is being curtailed.

Commencing today, the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road abandons the afternoon train on the Greenwood branch, which leaves here at 3:30 p. m. and on the return trip arrives in Jackson at 10:55 a. m. The Yazoo and Mississippi Valley also abandons the afternoon train on the Little J. district, arriving here at 12:30 p. m. and leaving on the return trip at 3:25 p. m.

The Gulf and Ship Island road has been almost paralyzed by the putting on of quarantines against the gulf coast, but will try to maintain a service of some sort. A passenger train will leave here at the usual hour in the morning and return at night, running only between Jackson and Hattiesburg. It has been found necessary to abandon the afternoon trains, and they are practically useless on account of the lack of travel.

The Louisville and Nashville road is not allowed to stop its trains in Mississippi City, and several of its passenger trains have been abandoned.

The tie-up on the Gulf and Ship Island will be a heavy blow to the lumber industry. The road has been delivering shipments for domestic points to the Illinois Central in Jackson at the rate of from 100 to 200 cars per day, and it is feared that this service will be greatly curtailed.

Case at Starkville.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 18.—Dr. Eckford, city health officer of Starkville, Miss., announces a well developed case of yellow fever at that place. The case is that of a man named Clarke, who came from Mississippi City. The Mobile and Ohio has withdrawn all trains on the Starkville branch, until they can make further arrangements.

JUDGE HELD UP ARIZONA TOWN

Made Citizens Purchase Home Before He Would Locate Residence.

Washington, August 18—Charges have been filed in the department of justice by citizens of Globe, Ariz., against Associate Justice Tucker, of the territorial court, which, it is said, involve his judicial and personal conduct.

It is alleged that when Justice Tucker went to Arizona some months ago to assume his official duties he let it be known to the citizens of Globe that if he made that city his home a residence would have to be provided for him and intimated that in case of failure on the part of the people to make this provision for him he would be compelled to take up his residence in another part of his district.

It is charged that the residence was actually provided as requested. Other charges are made of more or less importance, all of which are under investigation by the department of justice.

A report is expected soon.

FEWER NERVOUS TROUBLES.

Doctors Say Less Whiskey Is Being Consumed in New York.

New York, August 18.—An examination of the health records of New York, prompted by the statistics recently compiled by the Chicago health department, shows that there has been a remarkable decrease in deaths from nervous troubles in this city since 1870. While other ailments, such as heart disease, Bright's disease and consumption, have been gaining ground, all affections of the nervous system have diminished, as New York has grown larger and less turbulent.

As stated, the investigation was inspired by a recent report from Chicago showing that deaths there from nervous diseases had fallen off from 37.6 persons per 1,000 in 1870, to 12.8 persons in 1904. The records of Manhattan and Bronx boroughs show these surprising figures:

Death rate per 10,000 inhabitants, in 1870, 34.72; in 1880, 23.0; in 1890, 19.91; in 1900, 14.17; in 1904, 19.88.

Notwithstanding these statistics, Dr. Darlington, head of the health department, declares that the wear and destruction of human life and health from the pressure and complexity of New York life is constantly increasing. It is now manifest, in diseases other than those of the nervous system.

He declared also that the decrease in purely nervous diseases is very largely due to the decrease in consumption of whisky in New York.

Second Iun Started on Bank in Consequence of Suit.

Denver, Colo., August 18.—Attorney Edwin H. Park, for William Corbett, and others, filed suit in the district court today asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Denver Savings bank.

Fraud, connivance, disregard of the Colorado laws regarding savings banks, and illegal preference for certain depositors on the part of the bank officers, are the allegations. It is charged that Leonard B. Imboden and associates obtained from the bank on questionable securities loans aggregating $656.0000.

In consequence of the suit a second run on the bank was started today.

Mr. Summers was chief operator of the government telegraph, controlling the telegraph service in the civil war with headquarters at Washington.

Of this amount, after paying all expenses for collection, $96,845 was deposited to the credit of the trust fund to await the action of the senate on the existing treaty, and $85,710 was placed to the credit of the Dominican government.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENDS IN HARMONY

A resolution by Mr. Lumpkin, of Sumter, was adopted complimenting Speaker Pro Tem. Dunbar. Speaker Slaton then took the floor and delivered an eloquent tribute to the members of the house and was followed by Speaker Pro Tem. Dunbar and Clerk Bolfeuillet.

At the suggestion of Mr. Wright, of Floyd, the house called upon Mr. Hall, of Bibb, to explain where he had been during the last three days. Mr. Hall rose and answered humorously a fire of wit in the form of questions poured upon him by members. He then moved to adjourn, and the motion prevailed. It was then just twenty minutes to 10 o'clock.

Closing Scene in Senate.

At the final session of the senate last night the usual scenes attendant upon the closing hours were enacted. A committee composed of Senators Reid, Steed and Wilcox was appointed to notify the governor that the senate had completed its labors, and was ready to adjourn.

A resolution offered by Senator Candler thanking President West, President Pro Tem Bond, Secretary Northen, and all associated with him, for their courtesies during the session was adopted.

The senate then notified the house that the senate was ready for adjournment, and at 9:40 o'clock adjourned sine die.

Join the Representatives.

Immediately several senators raised the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," led by Senator Rose, and a body marched out of the chamber and into the hall of the house, where they joined in the general jollification.

It developed last night that there were four members of the senate who were not married—Senators Furr, Bialock of the thirty-fifth, Alsobrook and Odum.

Upon motion of Senator Bunn, a secret committee of three "discreet" members of the senate were appointed to select wives for these "unfortunate" members of the upper house, and have them duly married before convening next year.

President West asked of Senator Bunn if this committee would be restricted in their search for wives for the unmarried members to the state of Georgia. He suggested they be allowed to go outside the state, as he believed the gentlemen in question had already exhausted Georgia in their valiant efforts to secure helpmeets.

President West Speaks.

President West made an appropriate speech at the close of the session, congratulating the members of the senate upon the fact that this had been the most harmonious session of the twelve years he had been in the general assembly of the state. He thanked the members for their uniform courtesy in rendering him valuable assistance in conducting the business of the senate.

President Pro Tem. Bond also made an appropriate speech, thinking the members for their courtesies to him.

Senator Miller then moved that the blessing of Almighty God be envoked by that golden hearted gentleman, Senator Ware, of the thirty-seventh. Senator Ware delivered a short prayer and immediately Senator Lumsden began the long meter doxology, which was joined in by the entire body.

The following committee was named on congressional reappointonment: Miller, chairman; Candler, vice chairman; Bennett, Odum, Steed, Bunn, Crum, Copelan.

The following committee was appointed to investigate the propriety of purchasing Tallulah falls and adjacent territory by the state to be used as a public park: Hamby, chairman; Crum and Steed.

when there was a difference of opinion on a matter of dollars and cents was to compromise. The senate had offered such a compromise in putting the tax at $300, an increase of $100 over the former tax, and it was the proper thing to do for the house to accept this compromise.

Mr. Wise urged the house to settle the matter and not to remain in session all night carousing, singing and throwing paper balls as had been done at former sessions.

Mr. Wright objected to the statement that the house would indulge in carousing, if it remained.

"The gentleman from Floyd has been here before and he knows what I say is true," said Mr. Wise.

Mr. Kelly, of Glascock, moved as a substitute to Mr. Felder's motion, that the house insist on its disagreement. He said he had reason to believe that many members of the senate would agree to a more reasonable compromise, and he moved the appointment of another conference committee.

Important Vote is Taken.

The previous question was called, and under the rules, the motion of Mr. Felder to recede from disagreement to the senate amendment so as to fix the tax at $300, was put to the house first.

The yea and nay vote was called and many members explained their votes. The majority of those making explanations told why after having voted for the $500 tax, they were willing to vote for the $300 tax as fixed by the senate.

During the progress of the vote, the senate, across the capitol, which had nothing else to do but wait, indulged in a little singing, which, together with the conversation on the house floor, was so loud at times as to make it difficult to hear the vote and explanations of the members.

Mr. Wright, of Floyd, seriously objected to this singing, and called on the speaker to have it stopped.

"I rise to a point of order," said Mr. Bush, of Miller, "the gentleman from Floyd is making more noise than anybody else."

As the result of Mr. Wright's objections to the singing, Speaker Slaton finally asked Mr. Stovall, of Chatham, to request those members of the senate who were indulging in tunes, to cease, as it annoyed the house. There was no more singing.

The vote for the Felder motion, which determined the liquor tax at $300, was finally announced as 90 to 67, and the house adjourned until 8 o'clock.

Interest in the Organization.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—President Arthur Dasher, of the Georgia Federation of Commercial bodies, states here today that interest in the new organization steadily increases and at this time an army of the most prominent business men in the state are behind the movement for close and harmonious action in the interest of small and large commercial centers everywhere.

Within a short time boards of trade will be organized in all the towns of any size in the state, and these without exception will be members of the state organization. President Dasher says that the fact that there is no personal or political axe to grind in the formation of this body has contributed largely to the present success of the new body. He is confident that Georgia's freight interests will be carefully guarded and that no city or town will suffer unjust discrimination in any rate as soon as the new federation is in position to properly represent every member's interests.

Arrested for Making Boom.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—J. G. Sorrel, a Colquitt county citizen who reported here that he was making "moonshine" liquor in his native county solely and exclusively for medicinal purposes, found himself in the toils of the revenue laws in a commitment trial before United States Commissioner W. H. Martin here today and was bound over to the next term of the federal court. Valdosta under a bond of $200 to stand trial. A large distillery was demolished by the officers who made the raid.

Criminal Docket Arranged.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The criminal docket of the city court for the September term here has been arranged. Judge Hodges will find that not as busy as in former years at this term. Criminal offenses seem to be less numerous and the present docket not quite half that of former September terms.

Will Build New Church.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—As the result of a meeting of Primitive Baptists at the home of Thomas J. Skinner, on the Columbus road, 3 miles west of the city, steps were taken for the formation of a new church. A new building will be erected on a site purchased out of the Napier property near Mr. Zellner's home. Until the new building can be erected meetings will be held in the Zellner residence.

Macon Fair.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the directors of the Macon Fair Association last night arrangements were made to put General Superintendent Hunt on the road in the interest of the coming fair here. He will now be actively engaged in securing the exhibits and will arrange all details for, the great number of individual displays of the products that are coming. President George A. Smith is highly pleased with the outlook and believes Macon will hold her greatest fair next fall.

Play Day for President.

Oyster Bay, L. I., August 18.—Notices were received today at Sagamore Hill. The invigorating weather induced the president to take the day for recreation. He played tennis with the children in the morning and later left Sagamore Hill, accompanied by some members of his family, for a few hours' outing. Kermit, the second son of the president, left today for Deadwood, S. D., to visit Captain Seth Bullock, the superintendent of the Black Hills forest reserve. He will remain with Captain Bullock for two or three weeks on a hunting expedition.

RIVER DRAGGED FOR THE CORPSES

Thirteen Bodies Recovered From Coast Line Wreck.

Officials Believe That Death List is Now Complete—Only Two Bodies Found in Cars Removed From the River.

Norfolk, Va., August 18.—The removal of the two Atlantic Coast Line cars which plunged into the Elizabeth river yesterday afternoon revealed the fact that there were but two bodies in the cars, making the number of bodies recovered thirteen, and with five reported missing.

None of the injured now in the hospitals will die, but a majority of them will be sent to their homes in a day or two. The bodies of the dead will be forwarded to their homes tomorrow. A careful examination of the bottom of the river revealed no more bodies, and the Coast Line officials are convinced that the death list is now complete. The small casualty list in the first car, which was completely submerged, is explained by the theory that when the emergency brakes were applied many of the passengers thought a collision was imminent, and they rushed into the second car, and all of them had time to escape except two before the car finally sank beenath the surface of the river.

List of the Dead.

The official list of dead follows:

DOC HENRY, negro, Greenville, N. C.
JOHN MARBLE, negro, Greenville, N. C.
NELSON PEEBLES, negro, Greenville, N. C.
CELIA MABRY, colored, Winterville, N. C.
SIDNEY THOMPSON, colored, Griffon, N. C.
NANCY PERVIS, colored, Aden, N. C.
MARY JONES, colored, Greenville, N. C.
JACKSON ATKINSON, colored, Greenville, N. C.
ARTHUR WOODIE, colored, Greenville, N. C.
SHORTIE BARNES, colored, Greenville, N. C.
W. E. JOLLY, white, body not recovered, Greenville, N. C.
COLLINS FERGUSON, white, bridge tender.

Statement of Officials.

The official version of the wreck was made late tonight in a statement given out by Superintendent Wooten, of the Coast Line. The statement follows:

"Up to this time we are unable to give definite information as to the exact cause leading up to the wreck. The engineer who has been in the employ of the Coast Line about a year, is still in the hospital and we have been unable to get a statement from him or from other witnesses to make up a definite statement. We have recovered both cars from the river bed. From the first car we recovered nine bodies and from the last car two bodies. So far as we are able to ascertain the complete list of fatalities are covered by these figures, although it is known that four or five other persons were in the submerged car, among these W. K. Jolly, of Greenville, N. C., one of the managers of the excursion. The negro bridge tender, Collins Ferguson, is also missing. Thirty-two passengers are reported injured up to this time, the majority of whom are not serious and no apprehension is felt for the ultimate recovery of all of them."

MISTOOK WIFE FOR BURGLAR

Mize Kills His Wife While She Was Letting Down Window.

Knoxville, Tenn., August 18.—Harvey Mize, a citizen of Bennett, Tenn., a little mining town in Campbell county, near LaFolette, Tenn., shot and instantly killed his wife at an early hour this mornisg, mistaking her for a burglar. Mrs. Mize had gone to the rear of the house to secure a drink of water for her little girl, who was ill. While letting down a window the noise awoke her husband who was sleeping on a couch in the room. Seeing the shadow of a person before him, he seized a 45-caliber Colt's pistol and fired. His wife fell to the floor gasping for breath and died without being able to speak a word. The father and little daughter are crazed with grief.

Submits Its Freight Rates.

Mobile, Ala., August 18.—(Special.)—The Mississippi railroad commission has received the complete schedule of freight rates proposed by the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City railway, for its lines through Mississippi, the same being submitted for adoption by the commission at the September meeting. The rates proposed are on a mileage basis, and are somewhat lower than those charged by the nearest competing line in that territory.

DECLARES WIFE PERSECUTED HIM

W. H. Bradley, of Atlanta, Surrenders to Police in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., August 18.—(Special.)—Upon the strength of the voluntary confession of W. H. Bradley, of Atlanta, Ga., that he was wanted in Atlanta for selling household property belonging to somebody else, Bradley, his wife, Martha, and their two beautiful children, aged 6 and 4 years, were arrested today and locked up.

Bradley approached Police Sergeant Fields early this morning, asking that he and the children be taken into custody. "I must get away from that woman," he declared, pointing to a matronly person a few yards away.

Bradley seemed to be laboring under great mental strain. He declared here that persecution had broken him down physically and mentally.

Sergeant Field instructed Patrolman McClelland to keep the family under surveillance. Soon afterwards Mrs. Bradley ran to the police with the statement that her husband had threatened to commit suicide. Bradley said to the officer:

"I will kill myself. My wife is a hell. She's continually nagging me. No place on earth suits her. I've quit a dozen jobs to please her whims. Since I arrived at this hotel she has threatened to kill me."

Then he requested that he be arrested for the Atlanta authorities, and he was promptly accommodated.

Mrs. Bradley informed the officers that Bradley had committed bigamy when he married her. Bradley admitted her charge, but declared he had since procured a divorce. He said Mrs. Bradley had continually held the bigamy charge over him.

ELKS ARRANGE FOR NEW HOME

Decided Last Night to Purchase Lot on Ivy Street.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Elk lodge held in their hall last night, it was decided to purchase a lot on the corner of Ivy and Ellis streets, on which the permanent home of the order will be built.

The property purchased is situated just behind the Aragon hotel. It fronts 130 feet on Ellis street and 93 on Ivy. This property was recommended by the home committee of the Elks, an option having been secured on it from the owner, Henry Hirsch.

The price asked for the property was $10,000, and at the meeting last night it was agreed to purchase it at that price.

On this lot one of the handsomest club houses of the city will be built. When completed it will cost in the neighborhood of $35,000 and will be furnished with all modern conveniences.

The Atlanta lodge of Elks is in a most prosperous condition. At every meeting new names are presented for admission, the membership being composed of some of the best known men in the city.

The home committee of the Elks, which had in charge the purchase of the property and will attend to the erection of the new home, is composed of the following members: Martin Amarous, chairman; W. R. Joyner, Max Kutz, J. M. Slaton and Phil Essig, secretary.

The officers of the order in Atlanta are as follows: Dr. J. Cheston King, exalted ruler; Theo Mast, secretary; Phil Essig, esteemed leading knight; T. H. Hunnicutt, esteemed loyal knight; Morris Schlesinger, esteemed lecturing knight; J. C. Ragland, esquire; W. M. Sands, treasurer; John Young, inner guard; Morris Haas, tyler.

The trustees are Dr. David Smith, H. M. Patterson and C. Macon Sharpe.

CHICAGO CONTRACTOR LOST.

Feared Slugging Gang Has Made Way With Davidson.

Chicago, August 18.—R. H. Davidson, a building contractor, is missing from Chicago and his friends and relatives think he has met death at the hands of a slugging gang.

Davidson was in the employ of Frank W. Adams as superintendent of the construction of a new building at Rockwell and Thirty-seventh streets. The construction of the building has been marked by continuous labor troubles.

After he had discharged a number of bricklayers, Davidson received a call from a man who is supposed to have been a union business agent. That was several days ago. The interview between the contractor and the stranger ended in a violent quarrel, in which Davidson knocked his caller down on the floor of the new building. Two days later Davidson left his work as usual at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but he did not reach his residence. The next day an unknown person called Frank W. Adams on the telephone and said:

"You will find your man Davidson in the river."

Since that telephonic communication no word has been heard from Davidson or about him.

Dansby, returned a verdict tonight of guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation to mercy at the hands of the court.

Failed to Identify Marsh.

Plymouth, Mass., August 18.—The Chicago man who came here today to see George L. Marsh, failed to identify him as the man wanted in Chicago in connection with the murder of William Bate in November last.

are very often attributed to biliousness, and the stomach is treated to cathartics. That's wrong.

Faint spells are often accompanied by biliousness, but you will also notice shortness of breath, asthmatic breathing, oppressed feeling in chest, weak or hungry spells, which are all early symptoms of heart weakness.

Don't make the mistake of treating the stomach when the heart is the source of the trouble.

Dr Miles' New Heart Cure

will strengthen the nerves and muscles of the heart, and the fainting spells, together with all other heart troubles, will disappear.

"Four years ago I was very low with heart trouble, could hardly walk. One day I had a fainting spell, and thought I would die. Soon after I began using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and after taking three bottles I feel that I am cured."—MRS. EFFIE CLOUGH, Ellsworth Falls, Maine.

The first bottle will benefit, if not, the druggist will return your money.

STRANGE SPELL OVER YOUNG WIFE

Haynes-Moore Bigamy Case Develops Odd Features.

Mother and Father Both Plead With Their Daughter, Mrs. Haynes, to Return to Her Home, But All in Vain, Warrants Dismissed.

The Haynes-Moore bigamy case has gone on the record as one of the most remarkable ever tried in Fulton county.

For several days John R. Haynes has been held under a bond of $1,000, on the charge of bigamy. His wife, Maude Owens Haynes, retaliated, and had her mother, Mrs. A. F. Moore, and her stepfather, A. F. Moore, arrested for bigamy. Later the young woman herself was served with a warrant, charging her with perjury.

The complications in the case were simplified yesterday morning by Justice of the Peace Virgil O. Jones when the latter dismissed the two warrants taken out by Mrs. John R. Haynes, wife No. 2, who was Maude Owens, against her father, A. F. Moore, and her mother, Mrs. Moore, charging the couple with bigamy.

As a result of the trial of yesterday the only person in the case now behind the bars is Haynes, who was returned to jail in default of $1,000 bail.

The chief evidence brought to light was the testimony of Mrs. Haynes seeking to place her mother behind the bars because the latter had Haynes arrested. She declared that her mother had told Moore that she was not legally separated from her husband, whose name is Ward. It was proved by a state witness that Mrs. Moore had married Moore after learning of the death of her husband.

Mrs. R. L. Patterson, who lives on Wyman street, stated that she believed Bartow Ward, thought dead by most people, was alive, and that she had even seen and conversed with him near Price, Ga., several weeks ago.

Induces Strange Spell.

"Haynes certainly must be a very attractive man," said Attorney Lowndes Calhoun, "For it is remarkable the way wife No. 1 and wife No. 2 are sticking to him."

Mrs. Moore stated that she believed her daughter to be under some strange spell induced by Haynes.

"Judge, my daughter is not master of her own mind," declared Mrs. Moore with tears trickling fest from her eyes.

After the trial was concluded, Haynes stated to a representative of The Constitution that he was not sure whether he possessed hypnotic powers or not, "but I have often been told," said he, "that I was a very remarkable person, possessing a certain charm to which ladies are especially susceptable."

As those who figured in the trial were leaving the courtroom Mrs. Moore walked up to her daughter and entreated her to some home.

"Come and go home with your mother, girl. You know I will treat you right."

"I know all that mother," said the daughter in reply, "but I will never go home again."

After Mrs. Moore and her husband had plead with Mrs. Haynes nearly ten minutes, Moore took his wife by the arm, and pulled her away, saying: "All right, let the girl alone, if she won't go home let her stay where she is."

The perjury warrant against Mrs Haynes was dismissed by Justice Ormond.

Peculiar Disappearance.

J. D. Runyan, of Butlerville, O., laid the peculiar disappearance of his painful symptoms of indigestion and biliousness, to Dr. King's New Life Pills. He says: "They are a perfect remedy for dizziness, sour stomach, headache, constipation, etc." Guaranteed at any drug store: price 25c.

EMORY EXPECTS AN INCREASE.

Indications Are for Large Attendance at Fall Term.

Oxford, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Emory college will open its doors to the students on the 20th of September for the college term of 1905-6. This will be the sixty-ninth session of this institution, and the fourth under the administration of Dr. James E. Dickey, who is now president. During the summer quite an extensive campaign has been carried on in Georgia and Florida for new men, and with much good success. From the many replies that have come in, in answer to personal letters sent out from the president's office, it seems that there will be a most splendid showing on the first day of school. By reason of the recent disbanding of the Florida state schools by the legislature of that state, there will be many recruits from there seeking educational advantages in Georgia, and as Emory has always been a favorite with the Florida boys she expects to enroll a goodly number from the Land of Flowers. Quite a large number have already indicated their intention of coming, and there still come every day letters with that content. Without doubt the Florida Club at Emory next year will be quite large. And from indications the other southern states will have a nice contingent. The splendid condition in which the college is in at present, the many new improvements, the magnificent corps of teachers, the fact that a new and modern gymnasium will be erected at once at a cost of $20,000 or more, is drawing the attention of the boys of Georgia and they are seeking entrance here as they have not in a long time. The citizens of Oxford are expecting a larger number than usual, for they are spending more money by thousands of dollars in preparation for them in September. Six or eight cottages, heretofore unoccupied by students, have been remodeled and made ready for renting to the boys and an entirely new boarding house is now being erected by Mrs. Starr and three other new homes are going up at present. President Dickey says:

"Things are looking bright for Emory next year, and I am confidently expecting a splendid showing in the fall, for the boys are writing me every day that they will be here. We certainly are doing some work to make things pleasant and profitable to them. The college is in a better condition for doing educational work now than it ever was before, and with the completion of the new gymnasium it will be still better."

THE PASSING THRONG.

Hon. H. S. Money, United States senator from Mississippi, was among the guests at the Piedmont yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Money and Miss Money.

Senator Money reached Atlanta early Friday morning, and, during the day, received a number of Atlanta friends at the Piedmont. Late in the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Money and Miss Money, he went to Lithia Springs, where his wife and daughter will remain several weeks. The senator will return to Atlanta Monday, and will be here several days.

"It's only a trip of recreation," he said to a group of friends yesterday afternoon. "Some years ago, I came to Atlanta quite often, but recently I have had only fleeting glimpses of the city as I was passing through on my way to Washington. I have always been fond of this city. It has been a prominent exponent of the recuperative, energetic, progressive powers of the south. I have a number of warm friends here I have not seen in quite a time, and now that I am practically among them, I intend to take a few days off, as it were, to see them, and to renew old friendships."

Hon. John M. Allen, of Tupelo, Miss., known the nation over as "Private John" Allen, is autographed at the Piedmont. Representing Mississippi for years in the national house of representatives, Mr. Allen was looked upon as one of the strongest men in that body. A most delightful companion, an excellent storyteller, a genial and sociable man, he was also considered one of the deep, hard thinkers, as well as one of the most successful and methodical workers in congress from the south. Mr. Allen will be in Atlanta for several days.

"Am on my way home from Griffin, where I have been attending the annual session of Georgia municipalities," said Hon. R. E. Allen, mayor of Augusta at the Kimball last night. "Yes, it was a pleasant session, and was largely attended. Lots of good work was accomplished. But, of that the readers of The Constitution know, for the work of each day was fully and cleverly covered."

Mayor Allen was elected president of the association for the next year.

E. L. Turner, of the editorial staff of The Valdosta Times, one of Georgia's brightest and best papers, is in the city, at the Marion, and will be here a day or two.

"While no one in Lowndes county," said he, last night, "has the slightest doubt that the Rawlingses will hang, very few have any idea that the execution will take place at the time indicated—September 15. Now, that a quick trial has been had and a conviction secured, the people are satisfied, and will be content to await the law's course."

WILL ASK INCORPORATION.

Organization Composed of Catholics of Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., August 18.—(Special.—Governor Vardaman will shortly be asked to approve the charter of incorporation of the "Catholic Diocese of Natchez," an organization composed of the officials of the Catholic church in this state.

The organization of this corporation is an important matter in ecclesiastical circles. Under the existing arrangements all property, personal and real, used by Catholic churches in Mississippi, the entire state constituting the Diocese of Natchez, has title vested in the ruling bishop, the Right Rev. Thomas Heslin, D.D. None of the congregations, parishes or missions hold property in their own name.

The Catholic church has discovered that this arrangement often creates confusion upon the death of a bishop, and legal difficulties and technicalities are frequently brought up when the effort is made to convey title from the trustees of the deceased bishop's estate to the new head of the diocese appointed by the pope. By incorporating the diocese this trouble will be obviated.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

MRS. A. V. WILLIAMS EXPIRED yesterday morning at her residence, 113 Main street. She had been ill for some time, and was in the fifty-first year of her age. The body will be taken this morning at 7:30 o'clock to Gloster, Ga., for funeral services and interment. A wide circle of friends regret the death of Mrs. Williams.

THE FUNERAL OF DELLA RUTH King, child of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. King, of 143 Ira street, who died Thursday night, were conducted at the residence yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. William L. Bell officiated. The interment was in Hollywood cemetery.

GUS T. DODD, SON OF THE LATE Green T. Dodd, and Dr. W. C. Warren, son in law, yesterday qualified in the court of ordinary of Fulton county as co-executors of the Green T. Dodd estate. Charles E. Currier, of the Atlanta national bank, who was named in Mr. Dodd's will as one of the three executors selected by the testimentarian, declined to qualify, and based his declination upon the assertion that it will require several years to close the estate as contemplated by the late Green T. Dodd.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION WAS held in the parlors of the First Baptist church last evening in honor of the return of Dr. W. W. Landrum, the pastor of the church. Some 500 persons were in attendance at different times during the progress of the entertainment. A reception was also tendered their pastor, Rev. John F. Purser, by the congregation of the West End Baptist church. A large crowd was in attendance and a most enjoyable evening was experienced by all.

A HORSE AND BUGGY THAT seemingly had no owner was found by Patrolman Freeman in front of the Austell building Friday morning about 1 o'clock. The horse and buggy are now held at police barracks for identification.

THEATERS.

The Casino.

Charmion will say farewell to Atlanta theater-goers after matinee and night performance today. The dainty trapeze artist sincerely regrets that her stay has come to an end, for she has expressed herself as in love with Atlanta and her people.

The matinee this afternoon will start promptly at 2:45 o'clock, and it is expected that the audience will be made up estirely of ladies and children.

An excellent vaudeville bill has been arranged for the Casino for the coming week. It is a composation of the best obtainable talent, and that means the best acts that money and position could induce to come south at this time.

One of the features will be Leo Dervalto, in a scientific, physical exhibition of gymnastic and equilibristic feats, of which he is the recognized originator.

Arthur Rigby, the minstrel; Harry La-Rose & Co., in a comedy swetch; Montgomery and Pearl, the merry musicians; Dell and Fonda, singers and dancers, and others will offer contributions.

BOARD USES AXE ON ELEVEN HEADS

Park Board Employees, Including Clerk Parks, Dismissed.

Apportionment to Pay Roll in Department of Parks is Exhausted and Retrenchment Will Be Followed by Request for More Money.

On account of the deficiency in the council appropriation for pay rolls, the park board yesterday afternoon inaugurated a policy of retrenchment, and chopped off eleven heads at one fell swoop.

The matter was fully discussed at a meeting yesterday, at which were present Mayor Woodward and all members of the board with the exception of Commissioner Dunn. It was decided to ask council Monday afternoon for an additional appropriations of $3,000, with which to meet the payrolls for the remainder of the year, and it is believed that this sum will be sufficient to tide the board over its financial crisis.

The board ordered stricken from the pay roll every employee whose services are not absolutely necessary. The season of hardest work at the park is over, and the board retained only such employees as are deemed necessary to keep the park in proper shape for the remainder of the year. While the board has exceeded its payroll appropriation there are other funds on hand sufficient to meet all other demands at the park, and if the appropriation of $3,000 is made by council Monday everything will be in fine shape with the city parks.

The following named park employees were dropped from the pay roll yesterday:

J. S. Parks, clerk; James Phillips, C. D. Wilson, L. Gillespie, G. H. Henning, W. A. Brown, A. J. Atkinson, W. N. Humphries, J. G. Dickinson, John Hartley and Kate Thompson, janitress.

The following named employees are those retained:

W. R. Meyers, foreman, W. C. Lewis, assistant foreman; W. A. Sorrow, animal keeper; D. A. Ring, cyclorama custodian; Ben McWaters, George Pate, George McLain, L. Veal, night watchman, J. R. Ray, B. Kelsey and E. Lyons and T. J. Keown, lecturer.

DR. R. W. HYNDS DIES OF TYPHOID

Well Known Young Physician Succumbed Last Night.

Dr. Robert W. Hynds died last night at 8 o'clock at his residence, 58 Richardson street, as a result of typhoid fever, with which he had been suffering for six weeks.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Hynds, and three brothers, Henry D. Hynds and J. A. Hynds, assistant city solicitor, both of Atlanta, and W. M. Hynds, of McKinney, Tex.

Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

The death of Dr. Hynds will be the cause of much sorrow in Atlanta. Few young men had the number of friends that he made during the last few years. Professionally, also, he was well known. He had taken a stand in the medical fraternity that denoted both ability and application.

At the time of his death Dr. Hynds was assistant bacteriologist and chemist of Atlanta and was assistant secretary of the state board of health, both of which positions he had held ever since the offices were created. He was also a member of the staff of the Wesley Memorial hospital.

Dr. Hynds had reached the age of 26 years, having been born on March 23, 1879, in Atlanta. His early schooling was received in the Atlanta public schools and his higher education was secured at Vanderbilt university, at Nashville, from which he graduated in 1900.

Although Dr. Hynds had been ill for six weeks, it was not generally known in the city that he was in a dangerous condition. For that reason the announcement of his death last night will be a decided shock to his thousands of friends as well as cause of much grief.

WITH THE LAWMAKERS DURING FINAL SESSION

Attorney General Pleased With Act Increasing Salary of His Office---Large Numbers of Bills Signed.

Besides the new county bills, Governor Terrell yesterday signed quite a number of other measures, the full list being as follows:

By Messrs. Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, of Fulton—To change the time of holding Fulton superior court.

By Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb—To authorize the city of Marietta to hold an election to issue bonds for sewerage.

By Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb—To authorize the city of Marietta to hold an election for electric light bonds.

By Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb—To repeal an act establishing a system of public schools for Austell.

By Mr. Kelly, of Glascock—To repeal an act establishing public schools in the town of Mitchell.

By Messrs. Holder and Hardman, of Jackson—To amend the charter of Maysville.

By Mr. Flanders, of Johnson—To create a board of commissioners for Johnson county.

By Messrs. Holder and Hardman, of Jackson—oT amend the charters of Maysville.

By Mr. Donaldson, of Decatur—To amend the charter of Whigham.

By Messrs. Holder of Hardeman, of Jackson—To amend the charter of Maysville.

Attorney General's Salary.

Attorney General John C. Hart was greatly pleased yesterday when informed that the bill increasing the salary of the attorney general from $2,000 to $3,000 had passed both houses of the general assembly, receiving a unanimous vote in both branches of the legislature.

He was congratulated on all sides, but informed his pleased friends that, as his salary could not be raised during the present term of office, he might never enjoy the larger remuneration, but that he considered the unanimous passage of the bill as a distinct compliment to himself, and as a vote of confidence in him.

Judge Hart did not know that any bill to that effect would be introduced, and had not seen the bill up to the time he heard of its passage. He had asked no one to vote for it. In discussing the matter yesterday, he said:

"I construe the action of the general assembly in raising the salary of the attorney general as a personal 'vote of confidence.' Especially do I value the action since I never mentioned the subject to a member of the general assembly. The increase of money is of small concern to me compared to the comfort I receive from the vote. In fact, I may never enjoy the increase of salary, for the legislature cannot increase my salary during the term for which I was elected. It can only apply to my successor, and unless I am my own successor the money part of the proposition will never effect me. But I repeat, I construe the action of the general assembly as a vote of confidence and as an approval of my official conduct, and this manifestation of the good opinion of good men I value far above all the money in the treasury."

Cane for Senator Rose.

One of the happiest scenes attendant upon the closing session of the senate yesterday took place in the senate chamber during recess when Hon. William Clifton, formerly of the county of McIntosh, but more recently of the county of Toombs, presented his kinsman, Senator D. P. Rose, with a handsome gold-headed cane.

Hon. Walter Steed, senator from the Twenty-third, in an eloquent and appropriate speech presented the cane to Senator Rose from Colonel Clifton.

In a short characteristic speech Senator Rose thanked Colonel Clifton for the handsome gift.

Senator Rose Sings.

Senator S. P. Rose, of the county of Camden and the fourth senatorial district, surprised his many friends in the senate by showing before the closing session that among his many other accomplishments was singing.

Senator Rose is the possessor of a rich full bass voice and besides has an excellent repetoire, among his songs being several well-known in and typical of south Georgia.

While the senate was patiently waiting for the report of the conference committees just before the close of the session Senator Rose regaled the members on the floor and a large number of person in the gallery with "Ain't Gwine to Work No More," "The Sewanee River," "The Land of Gophers; Happy Land," and a number of others.

Senator Rose's singing soon attracted a large crowd and there gathered around him such excellent singers as Crawford Whatley, Senators Bennett, B. M. Blackburn, Senator Bunn, Senator Hogan, Henry Reville and many others.

The scene was typical of the closing hours of the legislature.

State Team Goes Today.

The Georgia team of sharpshooters who go to Seagirt, N. J., to test their skill in the national shoot, leave Atlanta today for the scene of the contest. The members of the team who come from Macon will meet the Atlanta men here today and will leave over the Seaboard at noon. The Savannah shooters will join the remainder of the team at Hamlet, N. C.

Under the general order governing the team, each man is to take with him two uniforms and heavy underclothing, as well as tent necessaries. Each member will also be required to provide his own material for cleaning his riffle.

Those who participate in the contest will be under strict military regulations until dismissed, and will be allowed the customary pay according to their rank. The Georgia team is composed of eighteen members, as follows:

Colonel W. E. Coney, team captain, Savannah.

Lieutenant Colonel J. VanHolt Nash, team coach, Atlanta.

Major Harrison Johnson, team spotter and quartermaster, Macon.

Colonel A. J. Scott, assistant adjutant general, Atlanta.

The other was an offer of $100 for the arrest and conviction of Clarence Martin, charged with the murder of Frank McGlaun, in Marion county, on August 13.

DID SHE TEACH RACE EQUALITY?

Knight, of Berrien, Wanted to Investigate Charges Against Teacher.

A resolution was introduced in the house yesterday by Mr. Knight, of Berrien, calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges that social equality of the races had been taught her classes by one of the teachers at the State Normal school at Athens.

In connection with his resolution Mr. Knight had read by the clerk a printed circular signed by (Miss) "L. McDaniel," a former teacher in the school, which stated that Miss Parrish, a member of the faculty, had told her classes that they should esteem it a high honor to teach negroes; that nobody should object to the hired girl playing the piano in the front room, and a number of similar statements.

Mr. Knight said he knew nothing as to the foundation for these charges, but in view of the fact that they had been spread broadcast over the state, and that other charges had been made against teachers and officers of the institution, he thought an investigation should be made.

Mr. Stovall, of Chatham, stated that some time ago the trustees of the normal school had investigated charges along this line, and had reported there was nothing in them.

The Knight resolution, on motion of Mr. Wise, of Fayette, was referred to the committee on education, which means that it goes over to next session.

HALL FUNERAL OCCURS TODAY

Services Will Be Held at St. Luke at 3 O'clock.

The funeral of Captain Lyman Hall, president of the Georgia School of Technology, who died in Danville, N. Y., Wednesday evening, will be held at St. Luke Episcopal church at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the interment will be in Westview cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. C. B. Wilmer.

Captain Hall was a consistent member of St. Luke for several years.

On all sides yesterday were heard expressions of profound sorrow at the sad death of Captain Hall. The man who shaped the policy of the Georgia School of Technology, who presided over it and builded it into one of the most magnificent technical schools in the country, had so entwined himself around the hearts of Georgians and had become so prominently identified with everything looking to the educational development and betterment of his state, that his death is felt a personal loss as well as a state calamity.

The body will arrive in Atlanta at 5 o'clock this morning. It will be met by an escort and will be taken to the parlors of Barclay & Brandon, where it will lie until time for the funeral.

The state, county and city officials have been invited to attend the funeral.

The pallbearers will be S. S. Wallace, Charley B. Howard, H. M. Patty, T. P. Branch, W. N. Kelley, B. M. Blackburn, W. L. Peel and Evelyn Harris. The board of trustees of the Technological school and the members of the faculty in the city are requested to act as escort.

Tech Alumni Meet.

Yesterday afternoon the Alumni Association of the Georgia School of Technology, held a meeting in the Century building in the office of the president, W. P. Walthall.

W. A. Hansell, Jr., G. R. Glenn, Jr., and D. C. Dodson were appointed a committee to draft resolutions on the death of Captain Hall. W. D. Hughes, A. D. Kennedy and Sidney L. Rich were appointed as a committee to select a suitable floral design for the association. W. J. Nally, J. C. Prioleau and C. A. Jones were appointed to arrange for the meeting of students and alumni at the funeral.

WOMAN MOUNTS ENGINE AT MACON

Demands That She Be Allowed to Make Run to Savannah.

Officers Called and Woman, Who Gives Her Name as Bessie Sellars, is Arrested and Put Under Bond—She is Now in Macon Jail.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—A well-dressed woman of not over twenty years, giving her name as Miss Bessie Sellers, was arraigned in police court here this morning, after unusual conduct at the union station last night, which caused a charge of disorderly conduct to be made against her by the afresting officer. While the engineer and fireman on the Central train for Savannah were oiling the machinery for the departure, she mounted the engine and demanded charge. Her persistent efforts to be placed in command of the monster locomotive, soon to make the run, caused the engineer to call for an officer, and the stranger, in a dainty dress, was carried much against her will to the city prison.

Recorder Nottingham heard the case, which, among other things, showed that Miss Sellers had carried a revolver. This was in evidence, and a fine of $30 was required of her on the city offense, and she was bound over to the city court under bond of $150 on the charge that she had carried a concealed weapon. There was no one to become her bondsman, and she is now in jail. She would say nothing as to her identity and from whence she came.

Policy of Mercer University.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The clear expression of a well defined policy for Mercer university by Dr. Charles Lee Smith, the new president, and local members of the board of trustees during the past few days, will set at rest all uneasiness as to rushing into ecclesiastical channels, and the exclusive adherence to only the Baptist views in the future instruction of young men here.

"Mercer must exist as a Christian institution," said Dr. Smith today, "but that must be so because the institution is owned and controlled by the powerful Baptist denomination in Georgia. Its spirit as an educational institution must, at all times, be such as to commend it to all creeds, Catholic, Jewish and every other denomination. Mercer must stand for an education which will prepare young men for the duties of useful citizenship, first and for all time.

"No dogma, no proselyting will be thrust upon the young men who will look toward Mercer for a training. The Baptists of the entire state, as well as the members of the board of trustees, are strongly impressed with the obligation resting upon them in running one of Georgia's great educational institutions and we must give a good account of our stewardship."

Dr. Smith is now devoting himself to a close study of the affairs of the college and is making every effort to arouse a local interest, as well as that of the friends of the institution throughout the state. Macon is fast becoming aware of the fact that the city's support must be had in order to make the showing such an institution deserves and indications point to a general rally, especially in Macon.

Funeral of Mrs. Johnson.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The funeral of Mrs. Laura B. Johnson, the widow of the late Hardin T. Johnson, occurred this afternoon at the undertaking establishment of Jesse B. Hart here. The services were conducted by Rev. John M. Northrop, rector of St. Paul. The remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. B. Riley, John R. Ellis, Luther Williams, A. T. Holt, T. U. Conner and C. D. Pearson.

Body Shipped to Moultrie.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The body of W. W. Pope, a white man who fell dead as he was stepping from one wagon to another here Wednesday afternoon, was shipped this morning to Moultrie, Ga., for burial. A coroner's jury found that heart failure caused the sudden death.

He Outwitted the Mob.

Macon, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Sheriff Zeigler, of Crawford county, had a close call with a negro, Alfred Howard, on his journey to Macon last night while he was making an effort to escape from an infuriated mob of citizens seemingly bent on lynching the negro accused of attempting criminal assault upon Miss Lena Childers, a prominent white lady living near Knoxville, Ga. The negro was landed safely in Bibb jail, but not until after an unsuccessful attempt to lynch him at the Crawford county jail.

Sheriff Zeigler was in town today and discussed the matter with officials here. Howard is not known to have committed the deed and was arrested upon a description furnished the sheriff. When it was learned that he was held in Crawford jail a mob soon assembled and an attempt was made to take him from prison. The sheriff dodged the infuriated crowd by taking the negro away at once, and his arrival here probably prevented a lynching.

Bibb jail contains another prisoner, brought here today to escape the wrath of an infuriated mob, in the person of George Williams, a Telfair county negro. Deputies Dowdle and McRae brought the prisoner here charged with an attempted assault upon a prominent white woman. An effort was made to take the negro from the officers before they left the bounds of Telfair.

RACE SUICIDE ON INCREASE DECLARES CENSUS BUREAU

WASHINGTON, August 18.—That "there has been a persistent decline of the birth rate in the United States since 1860" is the conclusion reached in a bulletin issued by the census bureau. The bulletin was prepared by Professor Walter F. Willcox, of Cornell university, and it is explained that, although the analysis made offers many suggestions as to probable tendencies in the birth rate of the United States, it is, primarily, not a study in birth rates, but a "study in the proportion of children to the total population or to the number of women of child-bearing age."

The result of the study shows that at the beginning of the nineteenth century the children under ten years of age constituted one-third and at the end less than one-fourth of the total population. The decrease in this proportion began as early as the decade 1810 to 1820, and continued uninterruptedly, though at varying rates, in each successive decade.

Between 1850 and 1860, the proportion of children to women between fifteen and forty-nine years, the child-bearing age, increased, but since 1860 it has constantly decreased. It is stated that the decrease has been very unequal from decade to decade, but that if the computation is made upon the basis of twenty-year periods it has been regular. In 1860 the number of children under five years of age to 1,000 women fifteen to forty-nine years of age was 634; in 1900 it was only 474. The proportion of children to potential mothers in 1900 was only three-fourths as large as in 1860.

No attempt is made by the author of the bulletin to determine the probable causes of this decline. An extended argument by General Francis A. Walker is given, suggesting that it is largely due to the influx of foreigners and the resultant shock to the population instinct of the natives. But Professor Willcox does not express a definite opinion, claiming that the vital statistics of the United States are not sufficiently developed to afford a sound basis of judgment. He notes, however, that there has been a similar marked decline in the birth rate of Australia, where there has been no such torrent of immigration.

Considered sectionally, it is found that in the north and west there has been a more or less regular decline, while in the south the change has been less regular and the decline less marked. In 1850, the proportion of children to 1,000 women in the north and west was five-sixths of what it was in the south; in 1900 it was less than three-fourths. In 1900 the smalest proportion of children was in the District of Columbia, where the number of children under five was hardly more than one-fourth the number of women of child-bearing age. The next smallest proportion was in Massachusetts, where it was slightly more than one-third. The largest proportion was in North Dakota and Indian Territory, in each of which it was two-thirds.

In the general decrease between 1850 and 1900 not a single state of the north Atlantic division took part. In seven other states, also, there was no decrease. In only six states—Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana—did the proportion decrease in each of the five decades; and in only Delaware, District of Columbia, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Oregon and Colorado does it follow the tendency for the country as a whole—that is, increase from 1850 to 1860 and decrease in the four succeeding decades.

In 1900, for the United States as a whole, the proportion of children was only two-thirds as great in cities as in the country districts. In the north Atlantic division, however, it was almost as great in the cities as in the country. In the southern divisions it is little more than half as large in the cities as in the country, while in the far west the difference is intermediate in amount.

"This," it is explained, "is probably due in large measure to the fact that the immigrant population who have been swarming into the northern cities of recent years, especially into the cities of the north Atlantic states, have been multiplying by numerous births with great rapidity, while the corresponding laboring class which has immigrated to southern cities from the surrounding country districts has not been thus increasing."

A comparison is made between the proportion of children born of native mothers to 1,000 native women of child-bearing age and the proportion of children born of foreign born mothers to 1,000 foreign born women of child-bearing age. In 1900 the former proportion was 403, the latter 710.

In the Atlantic divisions, however, there was a slight increase in the proportion of children born to native white mothers, and in the south central division there was but a slight decrease. The decrease for the whole country, therefore, was the result very largely of the great decrease in the north central and western divisions. The decrease in the proportion of children born to native white women was confined chiefly to cities.

The proportion of negro children to negro women 15 to 49 years of age was largest in 1880 and smallest in 1900. There has been uniformly a larger proportion of negro children than of white children. That difference more than doubled between 1860 and 1880, but between 1900 it was less than half what it was in 1880, and less than at any other census except 1860.

Though the negroes have a larger proportion of children than the whites, it has been noticed that the whites of the south have a larger proportion than the whites in other sections of the country.

ROOSTERS MUST NOT CROW WHILE VILLAGERS SLEEP

NEW YORK, August 18.—Roosters are forbidden to crow, dogs to bark, bells to be tolled and engines to toot their whistles in the suburb of Mount Vernon, between 10 o'clock at night and 6 o'clock in the morning, according to a decision reached yesterday at a meeting of the board of health. The ban will be placed on these so-called nuisances Saturday, and after that the owners of indiscreet fowls and restless watch dogs will be subject to fines ranging from $5 to $50. It is said that the ordinance is aimed at two railroads which handle all of their freight to Mount Vernon at night. The roads bring most of their freight into the city between 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning. Aside from the corporations, however, the new regulation reaches nearly every resident, as the majority of them possess either a dog or a chicken, and most of them both.

A committee was appointed to go to Washington and notify Mr. Tucker of his election. The members of the committee are Alva H. Martin, Robert L. Hughes, Barton Myers, C. Brooks Johnstone, O. D. Batchelor and George Schmelz.

SHONTS RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

Chairman of Canal Commission Talks.

Declares That Establishment of Commissary Was Made Necessary for Support of Laborers. Panama Railroad Not Used to Full Capacity

Washington, August 18.—Chairman Shonts, of the Isthmian canal commission, has returned to Washington from a trip to the isthmus and was at his office today.

Speaking of conditions on the isthmus, and particularly referring to the government commissary supplies to native laborers on the canal, or "Silvermen," as they are called, which practice has aroused the opposition of the merchants in the canal zone, Mr. Shonts said that owing to the high price of foods in the local shops there they were unable to live on their daily wages.

So the commission had provided for the opening of commissary stores to this class of laborers with the understanding that they were to be supplied only with the kind of food to which they were accustomed. He found that the Panama railroad was operated to only 60 per cent of its capacity and intends that this shall be corrected at once, as it is not practical to double track the road at this time without seriously interfering with canal construction.

Mr. Shonts intends to return to the isthmus in time to be present at a meeting of the commission on September 30.

GIRL MURDERED BY TRAMP GANG

Killed While Preparing Meal for Those Who Took Her Life.

Augusta, Me., August 18.—Mattie Hackett, the 18-year-old daughter of Levi J. Hackett, a farmer of Kentshill, a village 15 miles northeast of this city, was murdered last night by men supposed to be tramps.

Four men applied at the house for a meal, and while it was being prepared by the daughter, Hackett, accompanied by one of the strangers, went to the stable near by to do some work.

While there a scream was heard, and running to the road, Hackett found his daughter unconscious with a small cord tightly drawn about her neck. Blood was pouring from a deep gash in the head.

All the tramps escaped except the one who had gone to the barn.

PROMINENT MEN CONVICTED.

Ex-Mayor and Election Managers Sent to Jail.

Columbia, S. C., August 18.—(Special.)—George B. McCombs, ex-mayor of Brookland, the town just across the Congaree river from Columbia, and T. D. Mitchell and M. J. Fox, election managers in the last municipal primary there, were today convicted of fraud in election returns, and sentenced to four months on the chaingang or a fine of $75 each. They were taken to jail.

An unusual feature of the case was the fact that Mitchell, who had no counsel, conducted his own case, examining witnesses and addressing the jury. Mitchell pleaded persecution in that he was being persecuted because he testified in behalf of the assassin of Editor N. G. Gonzales, two years ago.

Wales Gets Fifteen Years.

Huntsville, Ala., August 18.—(Special.) Willie Wales, a negro, was found guilty in the circuit court today of murder in the second degree and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. He murdered his wife.

THREE NEGROES ON SCAFFOLD

Murderers Norfleet, Champion and Bone Executed at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., August 18.—James Norfleet, John Champion and General Bone, three negro murderers, were hanged in the county jail yard here this afternoon. The three men met death firmly and said they were at peace with God. A minister spent the morning with the condemned men. Champion and Norfleet were hanged first, shortly after noon. The execution of General Bone then followed. About fifty persons witnessed the executions.

James Norfleet was executed for the murder of his wife on a farm near Capleville on the morning of July 31, 1904. The body of the woman was found in a cabin full of buckshot. Norfleet was brought to trial and convicted on strong circumstantial evidence.

On December 17, 1904, John Champion committed the crime for which he paid the death penalty. He murdered his paramour, Irene Jones, in a resort in this city. The woman had left Champion. He followed her to the resort, and without warning he shot her dead. He also shot another negress, who recovered. Champion escaped the law for a time, but was captured in Paducah, Ky., last January and was convicted three weeks later.

General Bone murdered Mattie Maben, the wife of another negro. He entered a cabin early one morning on January 1 last, killed the woman and carried her body to Wolf river, where he tried to hide evidences of his crime by sinking the body in the stream. He was arrested and at first pleaded guilty, but upon advice of his counsel changed the plea to not guilty. He was convicted after a short trial.

HAD LAID PLANS TO MURDER WIFE

Serious Charge Made Against Former Member of Parliament.

London, August 18.—A great sensation has been created by the arrest of Hugh Watt, a financier and formerly a member of parliament for the Camlachie division of Glasgow, of the charge of attempting to procure a private detective to assist in the murder of his former wife.

Detective Marshall testified in a police court today that Watt offered him $25,000 if he would induce the woman to come to Watt's flat, where he proposed to kill her by the administration of chloroform and then to remove the smell of the chloroform with peppermint. Watt was remanded for trial on bail of $3,000. The police found both chloroform and peppermint in Watt's apartments.

Watt was in the divorce court some years ago when his wife sued for a divorce, the corespondent being Lady Violet Beauchamp, daughter of the late Lord and Lady Roden, and the divorced wife of Sir Reginald Beauchamp. Watt has since married Lady Violet Beauchamp.

Since the granting of the divorce Watt and his former wife have been in the law courts regarding their marriage settlements and much bitterness has resulted from this litigation.

MASSENGALE REPLIES TO HALL

And Hall Laughs Very Heartily at the Speaker.

Warrenton, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Hon. T. E. Massengale today at noon made reply to Mr Hall's speech of yesterday. Many in the audience at the courthouse laughed heartily at Massengale's remarks. Mr. Hall has made many friends here this week and received many assurances of support if he would enter the race. Massengale created much laughter in reviewing Mr. Hall's record, which Mr. Hall enjoyed immensely, judging from his merriment. The best of humor prevailed between the two men. Mr. Hall returned to Atlanta on tonight's train.

TRIBUTES PAID TO E. P. HOWELL

League of Georgia Municipalities Adopt Resolutions of Respect.

Griffin, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The following resolutions offered by Mayor Julius A. Horne, of Milledgeville, were unanimously adopted by a rising vote by the League of Georgia Municipalities at its meeting in Griffin, Thursday, August 7, 1905:

Resolved, That while rejoicing with gratitude that so many members of this league are in their places, strong in heart and resolve for the duties of the meeting, yet at the psalm of our thanksgiving arises, the heavy hand of sorrow in laid upon us as we remember the irreparable loss which our state has sustained in the departure from this rank of one of her most loyal sons, and lately a member of this league.

'Pardon me, but even here in the midst of this scene of joy, it still may not be amiss to pause for a moment and send a saddened and tender thought, like a little flower of love, to rest upon a new-made gravel in our sister city of Atlanta. The grave of one whose life just ended should be an inspiration to every man, for he was a man in every true meaning of the word. As a citizen, soldier, husband, father, friend and Christian, he exemplified in the highest degree those attitudes that spring only from a noble and pure heart. He has merited his reward, and it is eminently proper that we pause amid the busy activities of life and drop a tear on the grave of a dead comrade. 'One touch of nature makes the whole world akin,' and I apprehend that no one is so callous as to feel no pang when a fellow man yields up his life to the grim destroyer.

'The universality of death does no lessen its terrors—we all must die. The smiling infant, the sturdy youth, sweet-faced maiden, and aged, careworn man are alike its victims, alike the disease-stricken beggar on his pallet of straw, and the wealthy prince on his bed of down. Rich and poor, humble and great, young and old, must die. The rag of wretchedness and the purple robe of [illegible] common level in the democracy of death.

'The name of Evan P. Howell will live, it will take no stately monument of marble or bronze to preserve his memory; it is engraven on the hearts of the people of the southland he loved so well, for whom he battled so nobly. It can not be that earth is man's only abiding place. It cannot be that our life is a bubble cast up by the ocean of eternity, to float another moment upon its surface, and then sink into nothingness and darkness forever. Else why is it that the high and glorious aspirations which leap like angels from the temples of our hearts are forever wandering abroad unsatisfied? Why it is that the rainbow and the cloud come over with a beauty that is not of earth and then pass away and leave us to muse on their faded loveliness?

'Why is it that bright forms we love are taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of affections to flow back in torrents upon our hearts? We are born of a higher destiny than that of earth. There is a realm where the rainbow never fades, where the stars were spread out before us like the islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beautiful things that here pass before us like visions, will say in our presence forever. The ways of Providence, indeed, are mysterious, but the scythe and glass of time are not the emblems of His gentler power, [illegible] cutteth down alike the rose and the thorn. And now although the rose is crushed, its aroma lingers to sweeten the history of this life, and

"You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.'

"Resolved, That this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting; that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and be published in The Atlanta Constitution."

A true extract from the minutes.
BRIDGES SMITH,
Secretary.

FLOOD DESCENDS ON BRUNSWICK

Business Section of the City Two Feet Under Water.

Water Rises in Some of the Stores, Damaging the Stocks—Traffic Blocked From Bay to Union Street—No Washouts on Railroads Reported.

Brunswick, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—As a result of a heavy downpour of rain, which started this morning at 5 o'clock and lasted until afternoon, several blocks in the business portion of the city are under 2 feet of water, while in other sections of the city traffic has been stopped. On New Castle street, from Monk to Mansfield, several business houses have been put almost completely out of business.

In the store of C. McGarvey, furniture dealer, 2 feet of water cover the inside of the store.

At Elkan's dry good store the same condition of affairs prevails, while a number of others have been more or less damaged by the rain.

From Bay street to Union, covering an area of five blocks, and for a distance of 300 yards, there is nothing but one large stream.

Traffic has been completely blocked in this vicinity of the city and it is necessary for pedestrians to go around Bay street in order to pass.

Reports from the country districts are to the effect that rain has done considerable damage. No washouts on the railroads entering the city have been reported.

INFERNAL BOX SENT TO SCHIFF

Mysterious Package, Containing High Explosives, Given to Police.

New York, August 18.—A mysterious package capable of producing death was sent to Jacob Schiff, the banker, today, at the office of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of which he is a member. Mr. Schiff was at Bar Harbor today and when the machine, inclosed in a wooden box about 6 inches long, was received at his office, clerks immediately sent it to the police.

At first the police reported that the affair was a joke, but further investigations by an expert revealed the presence of 31 grains of a high explosive powder and two-32-caliber loaded cartridges. Arranged so as to fire on opening was a cylinder of emory lying in contact with both the powder and several matches. The flash of this powder would have discharged the cartridges which had been carefully filed at the fulminating ends.

Lead slugs were packed in beside the bullets, evidently to make the discharge more dangerous. Throughout the machine there was an oily saturation to insure the flash of any one of the matches reaching the powder. The whole mechanism was concealed under a newspaper wrapping of Wall street stock quotations.

Mr. Schiff was one of the delegation which recently visited M. Witte, the Russian envoy at Portsmouth, in the interest of Jews in Russia. A second infernal machine, resembling that sent to Mr. Schiff, was received through the mail today at the office of M. Guggenheimer, at 71 Broadway. The contents were nearly the same as those of the Schiff bomb. A clerk was suspicious of the package, as the address was made of printed letters cut from a newspaper, and he placed the package in water. After standing there a short time there was an explosion, due, it is thought, to gases generating in the box.

In addition to the contents of the Schiff bomb, the one received at the Guggenheim office contained a small glass vial, in which was some liquid thought to be either nitro-glycerine or olive oil.

NEGRO LEAGUE TO MEET HERE

Address Made to Convention in New York Yesterday by John Wanamaker.

New York, August 18.—At today's meeting of the National Negro Business League it was decided to hold the next convention at Atlanta, Ga.

John Wanamaker addressed the convention, telling the negro business men that their success had no dependence on color. He said in part:

"The very existence of this business league is to me an indictment against exploitation of progress by chance, favoritism or sympathy. You cannot afford to stop for a single minute, in order to become the ward of the nation.

"The great dream that you were to be lifted and carried has been exploded."

The league today elected the folowing officers:

President, Booker T. Washington; first vice president, H. M. Howell, Atlanta, Ga.; second vice president, J. E. Bush, Little Rock, Ark.; third vice president, Charles Brooks, Clarksdale, Miss.; fourth vice president, F. D. Patterson, Greenfield, Ohio; corresponding secretary, Emmet J. Scott, Tuskegee, Ala.

VETS LISTEN TO BRANTLEY

Congressman Delivers Address at Celebration in Ocilla.

Ocilla, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Ocilla is in the hands of the confederate veterans today.

At 10 o'clock about one hundred veterans assembled at the corner of Fourth and Cherry streets and formed a line for the march. Headed by the Empire band, they marched through the city to the auditorium, where speechmaking was in order for a couple of hours. Colonel R. L. Tipton delivered the welcome address.

Captain M. Henderson introduced to the crowd Hon. W. G. Brantley, congressman from this district. He spoke for about forty minutes to the old soldiers and his speech was highly enjoyed by all. After this, short speeches were made by Rev. W. H. Harden, Mr. Mull and others. The speaking being over, Hon. L. R. Tucker, master of ceremonies, announced that a good, old-fashioned barbecue was spread just outside on the campus. Again the vets formed line and, followed by a couple of thousand citizens and visitors, proceeded to the spot.

At 3 o'clock an enthusiastic farmers' meeting was held, at which were present a great many of the leading planters of this section.

CONGER TO GO TO ORIENT TO FIGHT CHINK BOYCOTT

OYSTER BAY, August 17.—Edward H. Conger, of Iowa, formerly United States minister to China, and since last April the American ambassador to Mexico, will return in the near future if present plans are carried into effect, to China.

His mission to China will be of a semi-diplomatic nature, the specific purpose of which will be to allay, if possible, the agitation aroused in parts of the Chinese empire against the use by Chinese of American products.

Ambassador Conger, who has been scarcely more than three months at his new post in the City of Mexico, was summoned to the United States to confer with the president about the Chinese boycott of American goods. He had a long conference with the president today. While neither the president nor Mr. Conger cared to discuss for publication the nature of their interview it is known that the ambassador will not return to Mexico and that arrangements are making for his projected mission to Pekin.

Spent Eight Years in China.

Mr. Conger spent eight years in China as the American minister. He is well known and popular among the officials of the Pekin government and is influential also among the Japanese, who are regarded as likely to play an important role in the international affairs of China from this time forward. While definite details of the projected mission are lacking at this time it is known that Ambassador Conger's presence in China will affect in no respect either the position or the duties of W. W. Rockhill, the American minister. After his conference with the president today, Ambassador Conger talked briefly in response to inquiries concerning his visit.

"It would be improper for me," he said, "to discuss for publication my talk with the president. We did consider the subject of the boycott of American good in China, which, I understand, is rather serious. The boycott I know very little about, as it developed after I left Pekin, but I should assume that it might be a matter that is, so far as the agitation is concerned, well within the control of the Chinese government. Of course, the government could not, and very likely would not if it could, compel its citizens to buy American goods, but it could and probably would say to the viceroys of provinces when the anti-American agitation was making itself felt that it must stop and it would stop, too. In such a respect the Chinese are the most easily controlled people in the world."

Hankow Railroad Discussed.

Among the subjects discussed by the president and Ambassador Conger was that of the Hankow railroad, running between Canton and Hankow. Mr. Conger strongly deprecated the relinquishment of the road and its concessions, even for a large cash consideration.

What the American-China Development Company may do as to the sale of the property to the Chinese government probably will be announced in a few days, but it is suggested that Mr. Conger's proposed mission to China very likely has an important relation to the Hankow railroad question.

It is expected that Mr. Conger will be succeeded as American ambassador to Mexico by D. E. Thompson, who is now American ambassador to Brazil.

Porto Rico insists that her assimilation is not benevolent without home rule.

Autumn seems to have plumped herself down in the lap of Summer.

Naturally China and Korea do not feel entirely satisfied with the role of innocent bystanders.

M. Witte says he has plenary power, but we notice he keeps the cable to St. Petersburg hot.

Secretary Shaw says he must deny himself a vacation this year. Must be taking that treasury deficit mighty seriously.

New Orleans would welcome one of those "blue northers" peculiar to the Texas climate.

Candidates Shaw and Fairbanks have gone after the southern black and tan delegates early.

Russia is apparently willing to "concede" anything that she does not own and no longer can hope to steal.

The boll weevil feels mighty humble and insignificant since the stegomyia fasciata came into the limelight.

The tariff, always a bone of contention, promises to divide the republican party against itself in a regular congressional Kilkenny cat fight.

Japan is magnanimous enough not to desire to humiliate Russia, but she has earned the spoils of war and she will insist on gathering them in.

Some towns are said to be so rigidly quarantined against New Orleans that they refuse to allow that stricken city to be talked to over the long-distance telephone.

Russia is willing to pay a "nominal" indemnity. Any debtor would like to discharge his obligations nominally, but what creditor would be satisfied with that kind of a settlement?

It is well for the liquor trade that the average consumer is not as scientifically critical as Doc Wiley. But, perhaps, Doc's criticism is purely official, not personal.

The czar's instructions to M. Witte are said to cover more than twenty typewritten pages. 'Tis a safe venture they are as circumlocutory as the ante-bellum Russian reply to the Japanese ultimatum.

"Russia is not yet ripe for parliamentary institutions," declares the procurator general of the holy synod. It is the business of the procurator general of the holy synod to keep Russia unripe for parliamentary institutions.

Since this Mrs. Peckham has been found to know nothing about the cotton leak scandal, isn't it up to Secretary Wilson to explain that remark about the "whole business being due to a gamblers' quarrel over a woman?"

The controversy over old Ben Franklin's religious beliefs has reached the point of proof that he attended church. Which is considered a sockdolager by those who have taken exception to The New York Sun calling him a "heathen"—though we can't quite see why.

Now that Governor LaFollette has decided to go to Washington as senator, President Fish, of the Illinois Central, will breathe easier. Senators are not given to hanging people even for failure to furnish palace car accommodations, while governors are sometimes nearly as fierce as they talk.

Perhaps if M. Witte and Mr. Komura were not compelled to devote so much of their time to the "special commissioners" of the yellow journals, they might get along with those negotiations more rapidly. But such a suggestion involves the assumption that the chief desire of the peace commissioners is not to cater to the yellow journals—an assumption most preposterous.

The Japanese suggestion that the mikado must be recompensed for the expense of the war contains an interesting little joker. Inasmuch as each passing day adds a million or two yen to Japan's war cost, it behooves Messrs. Witte and Rosen to get a move on them. Every twenty-four hours adds just that much to the indemnity which must be paid.

Peachtree's Horrible Condition.

The suffering people of the city of Atlanta send greeting to the mayor and other city authorities, and ask:

"Why, in the name of that civic pride so strong in the heart of every Atlantan, is not something done to make a decent, respectable thoroughfare of Peachtree street?"

It can be said without fear of contradiction that there is no other street in any city of Atlanta's size or pretentions which is in anything like such disgraceful condition.

There is certainly no other street in this city, paved or unpaved, so ill to look upon or so dangerous to traverse as this which was once the pride of Atlanta.

Some time ago—after continual prodding by press and people—the city government purchased a repair plant. That plant has done excellent work on some streets and even on a small portion of Peachtree, thus demonstrating its capacity. It is, so far as we have been able to observe, not now necessary upon other streets. There is more travel over Peachtree than over any other street of Atlanta outside the purely business section, and the interest in the proper preservation and the decent appearance of Peachtree is, therefore, by no means confined to the people residing thereon or in that vicinity.

Nobody needs to be told the horrible condition of the Peachtree pavement, because it is a notorious fact. Every Atlantan will indorse the statement that of all possible municipal improvements, none is more necessary than putting Peachtree in decent condition.

We are told that persons in authority give as a reason why nothing is being done that the pavement is "too far gone" for improvement. This, manifestly, cannot be the case. Vast improvement is necessary—there is no doubt about that; but it is necessary because of the neglect visited upon it in the past. There can be no question, however, that it is possible of improvement, and therefore there can be no doubt of the wisdom of putting the repair force at work upon it without delay.

The only way to get the right service out of asphalt paving is by keeping a repair force upon it constantly. In this way the life of such a pavement can be continued almost indefinitely. Bad as it is, Peachtree is, apparently, capable of being patched up and put in decent condition. Certainly it can be improved.

The people of Atlanta look to Mayor Woodward to see that this disgraceful condition is removed. No man is more familiar with conditions and no one is more capable of accomplishing results.

The condition of Peachtree, through almost its entire length, is a disgrace to the city of Atlanta, and should have, and we believe will have, the official attention of Mayor Woodward and the other responsible authorities at once.

Can It Be Anything but Peace?

The appearance every day or two of a pessimistic tone in the press reports from the scene of the peace conference is not calculated to greatly influence the opinion of those calm observers of the situation who are convinced that out of this conference there must necessarily come peace.

If anything seems certain it is that, despite the presence of the two armies in Manchuria, the war in the Far East is at an end. St. Petersburg may talk about the willingness of the Russian people to bear the burden of interminable conflict; but when Admiral Togo's fleet destroyed the last vestige of Russia's naval strength in Pacific waters, the war between Japan and Russia was, for all practical purposes, as completely ended as if a peace treaty had been signed.

There has been no naval victory of modern times so far-reaching in its consequences as that in the sea of Japan. Just what place that victory will take in history it is perhaps a little difficult to say because of the remarkable fact that the writers of history have always shown a tendency to glorify the work of land forces rather than that of sea forces. Perhaps the Japanese will prove different in this respect. In the interest of truth it is to be hoped so; for certainly Togo and his men deserve a place in the hearts of the Japanese fully equal to that given Nelson and his men in the hearts of the British.

When Rojestvensky was defeated, the last hope of Russia was destroyed. The politicians of St. Petersburg may not even now realize this, but it is no less a fact. The Russian talk is of "impossibilities" of Japan carrying the war much farther; and in a spirit of hopefulness they picture Japan wearing away her strength against the armies of Linevitch. There is absolutely nothing to impress the military experts of other nations with the possibility of such a contingency. There is every reason, on the contrary, to believe that the magnificent system perfected by Kodama and carried to such splendid successes by Oyama and the generals under him would, upon the renewal of hostilities, result in the early destruction or capture of the Russian army; and with that destroyed, the complete control by Japan, not only of Manchuria but of Siberia and all Russia's Asiatic possessions, would be assured.

At the same time it is certainly among the possibilities of war that Japan could with success send her magnificently equipped fleet through to the Baltic and, destroying what is left of the Russian fleet, carry the war to the very doors of Russia. What is there to prevent this? Would Germany or France dare to interpose? The moment either did, the whole sea power of Great Britain would go to the relief of her ally, Japan.

There is, therefore, absolutely no warrant for the Russian hope that should negotiations fail Japan will be at her wit's end. Nor does there seem the slightest possibility that even Russia's blindness, proverbial as it is, will fail to see the necessity of an early acceptance of Japan's peace terms. Humilitating it may be, but there is no escape for Russia from that humiliation. Her rulers brought on this war; and upon them, not upon the victorious Japanese, should the vengeance of the Russian people be visited.

Peace it must be. Of course, the Russian envoys will be excused for such "bluffing" as may aid them in their endeavor to force some concessions from the Japanese, but they know that in the end it is Japan which must name the terms and that the time for the acceptance of those terms is at hand.

Working for Georgia's Cities.

The proceedings of the convention of the League of Georgia Municipalities at Griffin have been followed with deep interest by the people of Georgia.

This organization, composed of the city officials of the different cities in the state, has done excellent work in its particular field and is destined to excellent work in the future. The exchange of ideas between officials is valuable to those officials, but it is more valuable in its results to the municipalities which these gentlemen represent, and the organization has, therefore, the hearty support of the people of all the cities.

In the election to the presidency of Hon. R. E. Allen, mayor of Augusta, the league has chosen a man splendidly equipped to continue the good work which has been done under the retiring president, Mayor Atwater, of Thomaston.

President Allen has taken an active interest in the work of the league since he became a member of it, bringing to it that excellent ability and splendid energy characteristic of him. He will undoubtedly make an ideal president. The body of which he is a member is to be congratulated upon its selection.

America's Naval Rank.

The United States bureau of naval intelligence has just issued revised figures upon the navies of the world, giving their status up to June 1.

These figures show that, measured in total tonnage, the United States ranks fourth. Great Britain leads with a total of 1,595,871. France is next with 603,721; Germany third with 441,249, and the United States fourth with 306,523. Italy follows the United States with a total of 254,510 tons; Japan next with 252,661, and Russia last on the list with 224,237.

In battle ships of the first class Great Britain leads with 51, a total almost equal to the strength of all the other nations put together. While Great Britain has 51, Japan is credited with but 5; France has 19, Germany 16, Italy 13, the United States 12 and Russia 7.

In armored cruisers the United States is at the foot of the list with but 2, our naval experts never having placed very great confidence in this class of a fighting ship, which is neither as fast as a cruiser nor as well armored as a battle ship. Great Britain has 29 of these, France 18, Japan and Russia 8 each, Italy 5 and Germany 4.

In cruisers of large size, that is above 6,000 tons, Great Britain is accredited with 21, France 4, Russia 4, and the United States 2.

Of cruisers between 3,000 tons and 6,000 tons, Great Britain has 50, France 18, the United States 16, Japan 11, Germany 9, Italy and Russia 3 each.

Of small cruisers, less than 3,000 tons, the record shows Great Britain 56, Germany 27, the United States 21, Italy 12, Japan 11 and Russia 7.

When torpedo craft of different classes are reached, Great Britain is compelled to take a secondary place. Of torpedo boats France has 238, Germany 105, Italy 101, Great Britain 90, Russia 82, Japan 81 and the United States 27.

In torpedo boat destroyers Russia leads with 83, though it must be acknowledged that so far as those sent to the Pacific were concerned they did not destroy very much. Germany has 37, France 31, Great Britain 26, Japan 22, the United States 16 and Italy 11.

As in torpedo boats, so with submarines, France leads, this time with 37 to 13 for Russia, 11 for Japan, 9 for Great Britain, 8 for the United States, and 1 each for Germany and Italy.

In the matter of coast defense vessels France leads with 17, Germany has 16, the United States 12, Russia 7, Great Britain 6, Japan 5 and Italy 1.

A study of these statistics serves to emphasize two things—one the great strength of Great Britain; the other the fact that in the American programme for construction, the smaller boats, of the torpedo class, seem to have been in a sense overlooked.

However, with the experience of the war in the Far East before them, our experts can be relied upon to work toward the construction of a navy well balanced in all of its parts.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE.

Georgia Day.

Editor Constitution: Mr. Julius L. Brown, in his communication in The Constitution of last Thursday, says that the 1st day of February should be substituted for the 12th, in Hon. Madison Bell's "Georgia day" bill, which provides for the observance of the latter date as the anniversary of the landing of the first colonists in Georgia under Oglethorpe, by exercises in the public schools, relating to the history of Georgia and to the lives of distinguished Georgians. His reason for this is that under the calendar which was used before our present calendar was adopted the date of the landing was the 1st of February—a fact which nobody disputes. But, if this is a good reason for changing the observance from the date which has thus far been observed in Georgia in the colleges and public schools and by patriotic organizations, the people of the United States should change the date for celebrating Washington's birthday from the 22d, for the date of his birth is set down in histories and biographies as the 11th of February, "old style," 1732, the year preceding that in which Oglethorpe landed in Georgia. By the adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1752, eleven days were dropped, making Washington's birthday fall on the 22d of February, and making the 1st of February the 12th.

Various histories use the new style date—the 12th—in referring to the landing of the colonists. It is used in histories and geographies taught in the public schools, and in a book recently published by the state of Georgia, "Georgia, Historical and Industrial," issued by the department of agriculture.

Mr. Brown says, "If we are to bring the date down to modern time, it would be the 14th day of February, and not the 12th." It is true that the mode of calculation followed in the adoption of the Gregorian calendar would have required the dropping of more than eleven days, if the adoption of that calendar had been delayed until this century; yet it would hardly be suggested that we should change the celebration of Washington's birthday to a later date for that reason.

Of course there would be no gain in exactness by adopting Mr. Brown's suggestion that the 1st of February be celebrated as the anniversary. The 1st day of February, 1933, would not be exactly two hundred years from the 1st day of February, 1733, "old style."

Let us adhere to the date which has already become established in popular favor as "Georgia day," and which our leading educators have thought proper to observe in the schools.

It is to be hoped that the bill will be adopted, for these school celebrations will do much to inspire patriotism and a proper state pride in the young of our state, and thus lay the foundation of good citizenship. Georgia day will serve, as has been said by advocates of the bill, not only to commemorate the great philanthropist who founded our commonwealth, but as a memorial day for all great Georgians.

Resents Suggestion of "Compromise."

Editor Constitution: I note that press reports refer to the bill introduced by the representatives from Walton, Gwinnett and Jackson counties providing for the change of county lines where two or more counties converge within the corporate limits of a city or town as the "Winder compromise," and he goes further and states that upon the introduction of this bill the city of Winder withdrew from the fight to have Winder at the county site of a new county. Nothing could be further from the truth in this matter. There never was any Winder compromise and there never will be; in fact, Winder does not compromise and has not yet learned the lesson of retreat. She never retires from anything. The committee that had charge of the creation of the new counties, a recommendation from that committee being equivalent to creation, saw fit to disregard the claims set forth by the city of Winder and put an end to her ambition for the present, but the ambition is still here and alive and no white flag of "compromise" has yet been hoisted, and you may say that from the battlements of the fair little city that in the past ten years has grown from a village to the present proportions of the city of Winder, no flag will ever be unfurled that has emblazoned thereon the motto "compromise."

By what authority does the bill take its name? Who authorized any one to herald that a compromise had been effected, when the truth of the matter is that a representative of Winder is now on the grounds protesting against the passage of the measure? How could the mere changing of the lines within the corporate limits lessen the inconveniences under which we now labor? The same people, in the same territory outside of Winder, who wished to come into the new county, would still be in the same condition. Winder would still be as far from the several court houses and the records therein deposited as she now is, and no single one of the hardships for the relief of which we petitioned the general assembly would be alleviated. What we want is the substance and not the semblance, and the committee which has had charge of the Winder fight seriously object to being placed in the ridiculous attitude of accepting a compromise of any character when their position would admit of nothing short of a complete realization of the ambition to have the new county carved from the three counties above mentioned with Winder as the county site.

A Blow at Foreign Capital.

(From The Albany (N. Y.) Journal.)

Georgia is having a warm time of it politically. It has had a midsummer session of its legislature and now it is in the thick of a gubernatorial fight. A figure in the contest is Hoke Smith, a name which was connected with the second Cleveland administration.

A glance at the newspapers of Georgia would indicate that Mr. Smith's campaign is expected to ride to success on the railroad question. The candidate is credited with this utterance:

"If we forbid the operation of railroads in Georgia by foreign corporations or non-resident citizens, those foreign corporations which own the railroads will be forced to sell them to, or lease them to, corporations organized in Georgia; and this course will effectually bring all railroads within the state into the hands of domestic corporations. No foreign corporation or non-resident should be allowed to operate railroads in Georgia."

This remarkable proposition may be expected to gain some support for the man who wants to be governor, but it is difficult to see the advantage of it at this distance.

There are many progressive capitalists in Georgia and other states of the south, but it must be admitted that the impetus given to manufactures and trade in the south has been largely through northern capital. If Mr. Smith has made a bid for support upon the declaration that Georgia can shift for itself he has committed an error which is apparent to all who give the subject any thought.

No state in the union can prosper on any such basis. The wealthiest and most resourceful commonwealth is dependent upon its sister states. Mr. Smith is evidently on the wrong track in his railroad policy.

"CLARK HOWELL SPEAKS OF HIS CANDIDACY AND TOUCHES LIVE WIRES"

By G. C. Matthews.

(Staff Correspondence—Macon Telegraph.)

Atlanta, Ga., August 17.—A representative of The Telegraph called upon Hon. Clark Howell this morning, and asked him, in view of the present conditions of the gubernatorial campaign, if he would not make some expression with regard to his candidacy for governor. After some desultory conversation, the reporter began:

"When do you expect to announce your platform?"

"At a very early date," replied Mr. Howell, "perhaps during the first week in September. Long ago I made announcement of my candidacy and there has not been a day for the past five months that I have not received from one to two hundred letters concerning it. You may see for yourself my morning mail."

And here Mr. Howell pointed to a vast pile of letters on his desk and to a letter file near by containing, by militia district classification, several thousand letters, bearing upon his race.

"What has been your object in delaying the formal announcement of your candidacy?" I asked.

"I have made no formal declaration up to this time, simply because I have been impressed with the fact that the time was not ripe for it. In the first place, it has not been known until now what the general assembly would or would not do. I have thought it best to await the conclusion of the session to ascertain just what had been accomplished. It has taken some very advanced steps in the way of legislation affecting the public welfare. It has, perhaps, done some things which should not have been done, and left undone some things that should have been done, but the tax and appropriation measures seem to meet general approval, and these are, as a matter of course, the most important legislative items usually passed in the first session of any general assembly.

"With the adjournment of the legislature we know what issues are left open for public discussion, and not until the adjournment of the legislature has this been clear."

"Are you prepared to give any suggestions as yet concerning the nature of your platform?"

"Not in advance of my formal announcement, which, as I have said, will be made at a very early date.

"I am aware of the fact that as a member of the general assembly for most of the time during the past eighteen years, as speaker of the house, and as twice president of the senate, my record in so far as it relates to any issue now up for public discussion becomes a part of my platform, and in announcing my candidacy some time ago I stated that I based it upon my record. From that day to this that record has not been successfully attacked. I have been called upon to explain no private transaction which apparently contradicted my record as a public servant; I have had no apologies to make for anything I have said in the past; nor have I surrendered any convictions to assist my candidacy.

"Nobody has ever doubted where I have stood, either as to men or public measures, since I have been in public life. I have been outspoken in my preferences and have not been called upon to explain or justify the desertion of any man with whom my relations had been such to warrant his confidence in any friendly assurance that I may have extended to him. I have never owned a dollar's worth of railroad stock in my life, never borrowed a dollar from a railroad or other public service corporation in my life, have never at any time represented them either directly or indirectly, and have been identified with every important piece of legislation looking to the adequate taxation and regulation of railroad properties that has been enacted during the past two decades.

"I have made a plain, straightforward fight on my record, and my candidacy was never as strong as it is today. I am receiving the most gratifying assurances from every county in the state, and I have been much impressed with the fact that they have increased both in number and in earnestness during the past four weeks."

"After your announcement, when do you expect to start your campaign?"

"It is my intention to start out during the early fall."

"When will you take the stump?"

"After the pressure of the harvest. For the next month or two the people of the state will be pushed to their utmost to gather and market the crops, and they will have their hands full with that. As soon thereafter as practicable I will take the stump in every part of the state."

"You will meet your opponents in joint debate?"

"I certainly will, as soon as I can find out who they are to be. So far there has been but one definite announcement. There are rumors that others will follow. When the list is made up it will be time enough to arrange the details of an oratorical tournament. The primary, under the instructions of last state convention, cannot take place before the 10th of July next—a year off. So that if the public speaking phase of the campaign is not entered until the beginning of the new year we will have seven months for it—more than enough time in which to elucidate to the full satisfaction of the public the issues involved in the campaign."

WOULD MAKE PUBLIC PARK OUT OF TALLULAH FALLS

A RESOLUTION providing that the senate purchase Tallulah Falls and adjacent property, introduced by Senator Hamby, was passed by the senate yesterday. As stated by Senator Hamby in the resolution, the object is to convert the property into a public park.

The resolution follows:

"By Senator Hamby of the Fortieth—Whereas, The great natural agency of, and adjacent to, Tallulah Falls, in the counties of Rabun and Habersham, is favorably attracting the attention of the state and of the United States; and,

"Whereas, This famous resort and pleasure ground has for a long period of time been a source of pleasure, profit and pride to the citizens of this state; and,

"Whereas, The property comprising said falls and adjacent territory is now owned and in possession of private individuals who are denuding the same of its magnificent forest and are otherwise dismantling and disfiguring the same, and who have closed and partially closed the same from the public; and,

"Whereas, It is the best interest of the state that the state should own said great resort and sufficient property adjacent to the same for its protection and attraction; and,

"Whereas, Said resort should be converted into a public park, which shall be open at all times to the public. Therefore be it

"Resolved by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, That a committee of three from the senate and five from the house, said committee to be appointed by the presiding officers of this general assembly, whose duty it shall be to inspect the said Tallulah Falls and adjacent territory, ascertain the cost of same and do such other and further acts in the premises as said committee may see fit, looking to the final purchase of said property, and make its report to this general assembly at its next session.

"Resolved further, That said investigation shall be made without cost to the state."

Italians in Cotton Fields.

(From The Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Italian colonies from Sicily have been located in Louisiana, and information from that state is that they are successful in handling the cotton crop. It is declared that these foreigners can do the work as well as any other people. On one plantation in Concordia parish there is an Italian colony of thirty-five families who are doing the work on 350 acres, and the owner of the plantation has sent to Sicily for ten more families. This is one of the peculiar evolutions of labor in this country. There is plenty of it at home, but it doesn't seem to be available for the sort of work there is to do. The field laborers of the south, as they used to be, seem to be no more. Perhaps they are going to school, or running for the legislature, or trying to be "gentlemen's gentlemen," or lounging about the "joints" on the levees waiting for something to "turn up."

FIRST BALE SOLD IN JONES.

Cotton Damaged Throughout County by Drouth.

Haddock, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The first bale of cotton of the season was brought to Haddock yesterday afternoon, and was ginned today by the Haddock Gin and Mill Company. The cotton was raised by Burden Fuller, colored, and is classed middling. It was sold to H. J. and J. F. Finney for 11 cents.

The cotton crop in Jones county is badly damaged by the dry weather from one-half a crop in some sections to two-thirds of a crop in other sections, is a conservative estimate on the yield. The recent rains will help the young cotton some.

CIVIL SERVICE FOR POLICE

How the Legislature Amendment Will Operate in Atlanta Police Department.

There has been much speculation as to what effect the city charter amendment regarding civil service in the police department would have on the present force.

City Attorney Mayson states that the amendment as passed gives the police board the right to inaugurate civil service after the expiration of the present term for which the police have been elected, that is, in April, 1897, but sooner if the entire police force relieves the city of the two year contract that has been entered upon.

"Under the amendment," stated the city attorney, "the board can have civil service in 1897, but if civil service is inaugurated sooner it must result from the action of the members of the force. It would not be proper for the board to request the resignations of the men to make any agreement as to a re-election. The act of resigning must be voluntary on the part of the officers and patrolmen."

When asked if a part of the force or even one man refused to resign if the board could accept the resignations of the others and then re-elect them under civil service, the city attorney said:

"The act of resigning must not only be voluntary but must be absolutely unanimous."

The amendment applies to all the officers, including chief, captains and sergeants, as well as the patrolmen.

Killed While Going to Mother.

Bonneville, Ore., August 18.—While answering his aged mother's call to come home J. L. Anderson, of No. 444 North Prospect street, Kansas City, Mo., was murdered near here this morning. Investigation showed that Anderson had met death by repeated blows on the head by a heavy iron bar, but failed to elicit any motive for the crime nor any clew to the murderer. A letter in his pocket contained an appeal from his mother at Kansas City to come home. Anderson was about 22 years of age and though bearing signs of tramping, he had been neatly dressed.

DRUNKENNESS A CRIME ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

...se, on Last Day, Puts Through Many Important Senate Bills.

...ATE REFORMATORY BILL WILL NOW BECOME A LAW

...pression of Military Laws is Passed by House—Sheriffs Must Keep Bloodhounds—General Appropriations Are Agreed Upon. Judges for Superior Courts.

The house on the last day of the session, waded into senate bills in a business like manner, and many measures of importance which originated in the upper house were enacted into laws.

Between senate bills now and then, there was a report of a conference committee on some subject or other, the labor tax, the reformatory bill or appropriations, but the house stuck to its work and senate bills were disposed of in prompt order. Only a few senate measures, to which there was some objection, or which were too long and complex for proper consideration in the closing hours, were put on the table.

The house passed bills to make drunkenness and disorder on public highways a misdemeanor; to increase the salary of the attorney general; to provide for additional superior judges; to make it a felony to shoot or throw rocks into a passenger train; to require sheriffs to keep bloodhounds; to make city and county bonds acceptable as deposits by insurance companies; to revise the military laws of the state, and various other measures of wide general importance.

It also reached an agreement with the senate on the general appropriations bill, the state reformatory bill and the general tax act, the latter delaying the adjournment until the night session.

Drunkenness a Misdemeanor.

After an hour's debate the house passed the bill by the venerable Senator Furr, of the thirty-seventh, making drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the public highways a misdemeanor. Though there was considerable discussion, the house was generally in favor of enacting this law for the protection of the people living in the country from drunken persons inclined to be boisterous and disorderly. The bill went through by a vote of 109 to 10.

Before being passed the bill was amended so as to provide that the new law shall in no way interfere with the control of drunkenness by municipal corporations, under their ordinances. The amendment permits cities and towns still to dispose of cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct in their mayors' and recorders' courts, though persons who are drunk on city streets and in addition thereto use profane language or act in an indecent manner, may be held under the state law for a misdemeanor.

Another amendment by Mr. Butts, of Glynn, makes it a misdemeanor to be drunk and disorderly on any passenger steamboat.

Messrs. Wright, of Floyd; Felton, of Cobb; Martin, of Elbert; Covington, of Colquitt, and others spoke strongly in favor of the bill, while Mr. Wise, of Fayette, opposed it. The argument as to the necessity for the protection of the people living in the country won the house and it passed the house by a big majority.

Appropriations Settled.

Only one conference committee was necessary on the general appropriations bill, the report of the committee having been adopted both by the house and senate as soon as read.

Under this report the appropriation for the clerical force in the pension department is increased from $1,200 to $1,800, the house receding from its position.

The senate was allowed its extra doorkeeper for 1906 and the two extra pages asked for.

The appropriation for public buildings and grounds was reduced from $22,500, as fixed by the senate, to $21,000, and it was provided that the capitol elevator shall run only during sessions of the legislature and not the year round.

The house allowed the $5,000 appropriation for furnishing the Peabody library at the university campus at Athens, and it was provided that this appropriation shall be available in 1906.

The senate receded from its amendment increasing the appropriation to the State Normal school by $2,500, and the appropriation was left at $25,000, as originally fixed by the house.

These were the principal features upon which there was a disagreement between the house and senate and their settlement puts the big money bill in shape to be sent to the governor for his signature.

Salary Is Increased.

The house passed without objection the bill by Senator Candler, of the thirty-fourth, increasing the salary of the chief clerk in the department of agriculture from $1,200 to $1,800 a year. The committee on general agriculture had cut the amount to $1,500, but this was opposed by Mr. George, of Morgan, and the house refused to adopt the amendment. It was, therefore, left at $1,800 just as passed by the senate. The present able chief clerk in this department is Hon. Joseph

SENATOR FURR,
Of the Thirty-third District, Whose Bill Requiring Georgia Sheriffs To Keep Blood Hounds, Passed Yesterday.

F. Johnson, and that he is entitled to this comparatively small increase in salary was conclusively demonstrated to the house.

Thanks to Roosevelt.

The house unanimously adopted a resolution by Mr. Leigh, of Coweta, and Mr. Stovall, of Chatham, expressing pleasure and gratification at the appointment of Mrs. W. Y. Atkinson, widow of the late governor as postmaster at Newnan. The resolution tendered thanks to President Roosevelt for his magnanimous act and said such acts as this would tend to bring the north and south in closer union.

Additional Judges.

The house passed by a vote of 148 to 0 the bill by Senator Blalock, of the thirty-fifth, providing for an amendment to the constitution, so as to permit the appointment by legislative enactment of additional superior court judges when the necessity for it arises in any judicial circuit. The constitutional amendment will first have to be ratified by the people, after which any circuit needing one, will have to have passed by the legislature a bill authorizing an additional judge for such circuit. When the additional judge is authorized he will be elected by the people just the same as other judges.

One of the main objects of this measure is to provide some means of relief of the congestion in the Atlanta circuit. Mr. Slaton, of Fulton, made a brief statement showing that the superior court of Fulton is 5,000 cases behind its docket, and that some relief is absolutely necessary. There was no objection raised to the bill.

Attorney General's Salary.

There was not an adverse vote to the bill by Senator Hogan, of the twenty-ninth, to increase the salary of the attorney general from $2,000 to $3,000. The measure went through by a vote of 137 to 0, a two-thirds vote being required under the constitution. Several members in voting for the bill stated that they knew personally that the work of the attorney general's office had increased to such an extent that this official was entitled to even a higher salary than this. The increase does not go into effect until the successor of the present attorney general, Hon. John C. Hart, is commissioned. The general hope and belief is expressed, however, that Judge Hart will be his own successor.

Game Law Tabled.

The members of the house failed to get together on the amendment to the game and fish laws by Senator Williams, and the bill was tabled. The bill, as passed by the senate, extended the closed season for doves to September 1, and made the open season for seining begin February 1 instead of March 15.

The house passed a bill by Senator Carswell providing that the salaries of the stenographer and clerk in the pension commissioner's office shall be $75 a month each.

Makes It a Felony.

By a vote of 92 to 0 the house passed the bill by Senator Steed making it a felony, with a five-year penalty, for any person to throw a rock or fire a pistol of gun into any passenger train. The house adopted an amendment fixing the same penalty for throwing rocks or firing into freight trains.

Insurance Deposits.

The house passed the bill by Senator McHenry providing that the guarantee funds of life insurance companies, required by law to be deposited in the state, shall be deposited with the state treasurer instead of the insurance commissioner. This bill was approved by Comptroller General Wright, who is the state insurance commissioner, as the treasurer is the custodian of all state funds.

Must Use Tongs.

The house passed, by a vote of 88 to 0, the bill by Senator Foster, of the second, so as to regulate the taking of oysters. This bill makes it unlawful to take oysters with any other instrument than oyster tongs except at a distance greater than 1,000 feet from shore.

The house also passed the bill by Senator Hamby prohibiting the dumping of saw dust or other like waste materials in any of the running streams in or around Rabun county.

The house passed a bill by Senator Lumsden, of the thirty-second, to permit militia districts which have had the stock law in effect for a period of nine years, to hold an election on the question of fence or no fence.

Must Keep Bloodhounds.

By a vote of 92 to 8, the house passed the bill by Senator Furr, of the Thirty-third, to require sheriffs to keep two or more trained blood hounds for the purpose of tracking criminals.

Reports of Arbitrators.

The house passed, without dissenting vote, the bill by Senator Reid, requiring that all arbitrators of corporation tax assessments made by the comptroller general shall make their reports to the comptroller general within thirty days after the appointment of an umpire, who must be appointed within thirty days after the arbitrators are named. The bill also provides that all arbitrators and umpires in cases of corporation tax returns shall be citizens of Georgia. Under the present law these arbitrators on the part of corporations can come from any other state and no time limit is fixed for making reports.

General Tax Bill.

The conference committee on the general tax bill reported at 1 o'clock that it was impossible to reach an agreement with the senate committee on the liquor tax. The senate committee held out for $300, and the house committee for $500. Several minor features were agreed on and adopted by the house. The provision prohibiting towns and cities from levying a larger tax than the state tax on packing houses was stricken out. The tax on packing houses in cities of less than 5,000 people was put back at $10. The house refused to adopt the committee agreement striking out the tax on small bottling works. The following new conference committee was appointed from the house on the general tax act: Messrs. McLennon of Telfair, Richardson of Houston and Sutton of Meriwether.

City and County Bonds.

The house passed the bill by Senator Candler, of the thirty-fourth, amending section 2035 of the code, so as to permit insurance companies to deposit valid municipal and county bonds, as well as United States and state bonds, with the state treasurer as the guarantee fund required of them under the law.

The house also passed a bill by Senator McHenry requiring that where any officer of a bank borrows from it more than 10 per cent of the capital stock the loan must be approved by a majority of the directors.

The house adjourned until 3 p. m.

State Reformatory.

Seeing the impossibility of inducing the senate to recede from its amendment to the state reformatory bill, providing that the reformatory shall be established on the state lands in Baldwin county, the house at the afternoon session, on motion of Mr. Felder, of Bibb, author of the bill, gave in, and concurred in the senate amendment. Mr. Felder said that unless this amendment was agreed to, there would be no chance to get this institution, which is of great importance to the state, perhaps for years. He was willing to concede this point to the senate, he said, and let the reformatory go to the state farm.

Mr. Flynt, of Spalding, opposed the senate amendment on the same ground as before, that it would put the stigma of the penitentiary upon the young boys and girls committed to the institution.

Mr. West, of White, spoke in favor of assenting to the senate amendment.

The senate amendment was then concurred in, and the reformatory will be established within the next few months in Baldwin county.

A well-known member of the senate said yesterday, if it had not been for the popularity of Tom Felder, of Bibb, the author, it would never have gone through the senate even with the amendment.

Military Bill Passed.

The house passed, at the afternoon session, the bill by Senator Wheatley, of the 13th, providing for a revision and recodification of the military laws of the state. The vote on the bill was 92 to 4.

Mr. Mann, of Dougherty, chairman of the committee on military affairs, made a brief explanation of the purposes of the bill, which was satisfactory to the house. Mr. Mann stated that the bill had received the approval of the governor and the adjutant general. It made no radical change in the present military laws, he said, and did not affect the right of any citizen or of any military organization. It did not muster out any company, nor did it interfere with any chartered rights.

The principal changes made, Mr. Mann said, were for the purpose of making the Georgia militia laws conform to the United States congress, and by which the troops will be governed after 1908. Some other changes in phraseology had been made, he said, to make certain sections of the code more explicit and definite.

One feature of the bill permits Governor Terrell to retain his present staff of 150 colonels, or more, during the remainder of his term, after which the present law will apply and a staff of only twenty-eight colonels, who must have seen military service, will be allowed.

To Revise Tax Laws.

Speaker Slaton appointed the following committee on the part of the house under the Candler resolution, to sit during the recess, investigate the question of a revision of Georgia's tax laws, and report at the next session:

Mr. Wise of Fayette, chairman; Messrs. McMullan of Hart, Sutton of Meriwether, George of Morgan and Anderson of Chatham.

Tallulah Falls.

The house at the afternoon session passed the resolution by Senator Hamby, providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter of the purchase by the state of Tallulah Falls, with a view to converting it into a public park. There was no opposition to the resolution.

Important Bills Passed.

The following important senate bills were passed:

By Senator Bunn of the Thirty-eighth—To regulate the business of assessment life insurance companies, so as to require deposits for protection of policyholders, in addition to the $20,000 now required; the additional deposits to amount to $1,000 for each additional $100,000 of insurance written and issued to policyholders.

By Senator Steed of the Twenty-third—A bill to regulate the business of industrial and cooperative life insurance companies, so as to better protect their policyholders.

By Senator McHenry, of the Forty-second—To create a lien against the assets of banks in favor of holders of receipts for collaterals sent for collection and remittance to holders of such receipts.

By Senator Westbrook of the Tenth—To amend section 982 of the code so as to add the city of Ashburn to the list of state depository points.

By Senator Westbrook of the Tenth—To incorporate the city of Sylvester.

By Senator Westbrook of the Tenth—To create a charter for the town of Warwick.

Blackburn Says Good Bye.

As he concluded reading the last message from the governor to the house and senate, Hon. B. M. Blackburn, executive secretary, said goodbye to both bodies in the following well-chosen words:

"And, now, Mr. President, and gentlemen of the senate, without any purpose to interrupt the deliberations of your body, I ask the privilege of dropping a word of kindness on the eve of your departure to your respective homes.

"In thanking you for the eminent courtesies that you have shown to me, I desire to also express, in behalf of the governor, the sincere prayer that God will hold you, and each of you, in the hollow of His hand, and merciful hand, until you shall have returned one year hence to the service of your state."

Tom Hill and Crisp County.

Perhaps the most generally congratulated member of the legislature during the closing days of the session was Representative J. T. Hill, now of Dooly, but hereafter of Crisp county.

Representative Hill was the author of the bill creating the new county of Crisp, with Cordele as the county seat, from the southern part of what is now Dooly county.

At the very threshold of the fight for the new county Representative Hill was confronted with the opposition not only of the other member of the house from Dooly county, but with what seemed particularly ominous, the active opposition of the senator from the district, for Senator Crum not only represented the district, but lived in the new county, and in Cordele, its proposed seat of government. The senator was bitterly opposed to the establishment of the county on the ground that the people of Dooly county were opposed to the division. He made no concealment of opposition, protesting to the end on the ground that it was his conscientious duty to do so, and being the only member of the senate who voted against the bill when it came up for action in that body, as was Representative Hill's colleague, Dr. Mobley, the only member of the house who voted against the bill.

From first to last Mr. Hill took the deepest interest in the measure, rallying to its support his friends not only in the house, but throughout the state, and it is but a just tribute to him to say that with the strong opposition to a measure creating a new county seat only 9 miles distant from the seat of the original county, with the opposition of his colleague and of his senator, the latter living in the new county, there was probably not another man in the house who could have led a successful fight under such circumstances.

HON. J. T. HILL,
Of Dooly, Who Made a Strong Fight for the Creation of the New County of Crisp, With Cordele as the County Site.

It was a splendid tribute to his personal popularity and to his prominent standing as a member.

With becoming modesty Mr. Hill refuses to take any credit to himself, saying:

"I could have done absolutely nothing had it not been for the united support of my people at home. The citizens of Cordele rallied almost to a man. Never before have they been so united on any one proposition. Many of the good citizens of the town and of the new county came here voluntarily, and at their own expense, to assist in the movement, and without that assistance the bill would, in all probability, have succumbed to the fearful onslaught made on it. Whatever credit belongs to anybody for the success of this measure should be given to the united action and support of my home people. That effort, with the real merit of the movement, did the work, and I was simply an instrument. I will say, however, that the passage of the bill marks the proudest day in my career."

Five Negro Companies To Be Disbanded on Signing of Bill.

MADE A MISDEMEANOR TO PURCHASE VOTES

Bill by Wright, of Richmond, Passes the Senate After Considerable Discussion—Important Measures Get Through the Senate

After some discussion yesterday afternoon the bill by Representative Wright, of Richmond, making it a misdemeanor to buy or attempt to buy a vote at a primary election, was passed by the senate by a vote of 26 to 1.

Senator Bunn, in advocating the passage of the bill, urged that it was a measure calculated to purify the elections of the state.

Senator Candler also spoke in favor of the bill, strongly urging its passage on the ground that anything which would tend to purify the ballot should be heartily supported.

Senator Steed was unwilling to admit there had been corruption in the primary elections.

Senator Rose said he came from a section of the state where there was neither the buying nor selling of votes.

The third conference committee appointed to consider the tax act as appointed by President West was composed of Senators McHenry, Blalock, of the thirty-fifth, and Foy.

Morning Session.

A large number of important general bills were passed by the senate at the morning session yesterday. Among these was the $75,000 appropriation for a water works system at the state sanitarium at Milledgeville, the measure disbanding the negro troops of the state, the bill granting the right of eminent domain to telephone companies, the bill providing for local county taxation for school purposes, and a bill providing for a special appropriation of $25,000 for erecting a building at the Georgia Normal and Industrial college.

Senator Wheatley's measure providing for the creation of the office of lieutenant governor came up for consideration, but after considerable debate was tabled.

The senate adopted the report of the conference committee on the appropriations bill without debate.

As the conference committee on the general tax act could not agree, a new committee from the senate was named by President West, composed of Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth; Senator Reid and Senator Miller.

The report of the conference committee on the reformatory bill which was to the effect that the members of the committee could not agree and with a recommendation that the senate refuse to recede from its amendment providing that the reformatory be located on the prison farm, was adopted by the senate.

Lieutenant Governor.

The most interesting discussion in the senate during the morning was upon Senator Wheatley's "lieutenant governor" bill. Senator Wheatley made a strong speech favoring its passage, contending it would be more democratic for the presiding officer of the senate to be elected by the people, and that it would be for the best interests of the state in every way for this office to be created.

Senator Miller, in a strong speech, opposed the bill. He contended that too much politics would come into the senate by having a presiding officer not amenable to the senate.

Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth, believed that the election of a lieutenant governor would be a step forward such as Georgia has not taken in one hundred years. Senator Blalock advanced the same reason for the creation of this office as Senator Miller advanced against it. He contended that the election by the people of the presiding officer of the senate would in a large measure take politics out of the senate. He argued that the movement was in line with the government of the United States.

Senator Carswell moved to table the bill and the vote showed that a constitutional majority was not present in the senate. The bill was tabled.

An amusing incident in connection with the vote was the necessity for President West to vote for the first time during the session. On the vote to table there was a tie and President West was called upon to decide the embarrassing question. He voted to table the bill.

Vagrancy Law.

The vagrancy bill by Senators Adams and Miller, passed in the house by substitute, was passed by the senate yesterday.

The important changes in the law provide that a convicted vagrant may be permitted to give bond. The penalty for vagrancy is the same as for any misdemeanor. All costs shall be paid and of the fine imposed.

Representative Max Land's military bill, providing for the disbanding of the negro troops of the state, was passed by a vote of 30 to 0.

The bill was brought before the senate out of its regular order upon motion of Senator Strange.

Senator Hand opposed the hurried consideration of the bill, contending that a measure of such importance should come up at a time other than the heel of the session, and moved the tabling of the bill.

Senator Steed argued against delay, and was surprised at the stand taken on the bill by the senator from the eighth.

Disorder in Senate.

It was with great difficulty that order was kept in the senate chamber yesterday. Senators and visitors persisted in talking in audible tones, and otherwise interfering with business. President West rapped repeatedly for order, without the desired effect and finally had to resort to extreme measures. He instructed the sergeant at arms to see that order was preserved at any cost. Order was restored.

Senator Bunn's bill granting the right of eminent domain to telephone companies was passed as amended by the senate yesterday without opposition.

The bill providing for the $75,00 appropriation for a water works system at the state sanitarium, introduced in the house by Mr. Jenkins, of Putnam, and over which there was a bitter fight in the house, was passed by the senate without opposition.

Throughout the lower floor of the house the color motif of green and yellow was attractively carried out, with ferns, palms and "sunbursts."

The dining room was profusely decorated in golden rod, asparagus fern and wild clematis.

A salad and ice course was served, carrying out the colors.

The place cards were hand painted leaves, on one side of which were twelve questions, the answers being names of different trees, which created quite a lot of amusement and an exciting contest. Bubble Party.

HINDA MARY ROBERTS, the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, entertained a number of her young friends at a "soap bubole" party Thursday afternoon at her home on Walker street, and the occasion was a delightful one in celebration of the young hostess' fifth birthday.

Her guests were Vincie Crockett, Gladys Fuller, Jennie Thompson, Bennie Mason, Mary Tyler Walker, Emma Clifford Brotherton, Margaret Walker, Julia Grace Wilson, Hugh Clayton Wilson, Morgan Fuller. The out-of-town visitors were Sybil McNeill, Jacksonville, Fla.; Louise and Pattie B. Berry, Rome, Ga.; Robert Glenn, Washington, D. C.; Edward Heywood, Worcester, Mass.

The Top Coat.

THE atmosphere of yesterday suggested the necessity, at all times, of the summer wrap or the wrap of light weight, which is useful at any season, and which every woman should possess.

Coats, as a rule, are preferable to any other style, though the Shaker cloak in the tones of gray or tan are most useful, being of light material and easy of adjustment. The smart coat for "top" wear at present is cut empire style, and, if of dark material, is lined with a contrasting light color. It is neither an evening wrap, nor is it altogether one essentially for the afternoon. It is to be thrown on to protect the light colored gown and is seen in automobiles in the afternoon as much as it is seen on the balconies of the big hotels, where the world of fashion is assembled.

As the season advances, the long coat will vary in style, those close fitting and half fitting to share honors with the empire cut.

For evening the vari-colored silk cloaks will be seen as much as those of white, pale blue, pink, lavender and green, to be the most popular colors—with now and then coral color asserting itself.

TRIBUNE MAN IN ATLANTA.

Has Come for the Purpose of Investigating Report That Fever Existed Here.

James French Dorrance, staff correspondent of The New York Tribune, called upon Mayor Woodward yesterday morning for the purpose of presenting his credentials and to inform the mayor that he had come to Atlanta for the purpose of investigating the report that twelve cases of yellow fever existed here.

The report, which was immediately denounced as false by Mayor Woodward in a telegram to The Tribune, was published in the New York paper about one week ago.

Mr. Dorrance has ascertained that the report of yellow fever in Atlanta is and was unquestionably without foundation and he informed his paper to that effect by letter last night.

The newspaper man will go to New Orleans and other infected districts for the purpose of investigating conditions.

WILLIS F. DENNY IS DEAD.

Well Known Atlanta Architect Expired at Denver, Colorado, Yesterday Morning.

Willis F. Denny, of Atlanta, one of the best known architects in the south, died yesterday morning at Denver, Colo., after an illness of more than two months.

Mr. Denny's wife and his mother were at his bedside and will leave Denver today to bring his body to Atlanta for funeral and interment. Until their arrival the definite arrangements for the funeral will not be announced.

The news of Mr. Denny's untimely death will cause sorrow in Atlanta and throughout the state. He was 32 years of age and had a brilliant future before him in his chosen field of architecture. He had planned buildings throughout the south and had been eminently successful in his work. Among the notable buildings he erected in Atlanta were the Piedmont hotel, and the Rhodes and duBignon residences on Peachtree street. He also erected hotels in Birmingham, Montgomery and had just secured the contract for one in Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Denny is survived by his wife and two children. Mrs. Denny was formerly Miss Gertrude Moreland. She is a daughter of Major A. F. Moreland and a sister of Dr. A. C. Moreland, of Forsyth, and Mrs. C. D. Maddox, of Atlanta.

Mr. Denny was a member of the firm of Philips & Denny, haberdashers, and was identified with other business interests in Atlanta.

FITZGERALD IN DARKNESS.

Judge Martin Will Call Special Term. Other News.

Fitzgerald, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—On account of the breaking of some part of the machinery at the water and light plant, the city was left in darkness the last two nights, except for the rays of the moon The plant is in the hands of repairers.

Judge J. H. Martin has given notice that because he has so few disqualified cases, he will call a special term of court to try them, instead of having them called at the September term of Irwin superior court.

The Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 20, of this place, have, through their corresponding secretary, notified the public that the union will go into effect for the nine hour system on August 25.

Five rural free delivery routes, leading out from Fitzgerald, have been put in operation within the last few days, and the service is perfectly satisfactory.

Cotton Coming Into Perry.

Perry, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—Perry is securing new cotton. Several bales have been brought in this week. It is opening rapidly. The crop in some parts of the country is good, but poor in others. Perry expects more cotton than she secured last season.

QUESTION CAN BE EASILY ANSWERED

Is It Worth While To Send a Girl Off to School Before She Can Enter College?

This is a very practical and important question to many parents. The true answer is yes!

Because the preparatory part of education is fundamental to success in college. For the lack of proper preparation many students fail in college.

Because the best preparatory school will prepare evenly for college so that the student can enter the college class regular in all her studies.

Because the best preparatory school will teach the student how to study.

Because the best preparatory school will inspire the student with an ambition and thirst for the higher education.

Because the best preparatory school will give the student true educational and moral ideals at a critical period in life.

For these reasons many of the best colleges in the country have established schools preparatory to entrance to their freshman class.

This is just what Agnes Scott institute at Decatur, Ga., has done in organizing along the best modern lines its academic department. Full information given on application to Rev. F. H. Gaines, President, Decatur, Ga.

Fremont's Flag Treasured in California.

(From The Seattle Times.)

Redding, Cal.—Locked up in the vault of one of the banks of Redding is a flag that is second in historic importance to California only to the Bear flag that is so jealously guarded by Pacific coast pioneers.

The flag referred to is the one that General John C. Fremont unfurled from the summit of the Rocky mountains in 1841, when he and his small party were on their way to California before the Mexican war. The banner is the property of P. M. Reardon, managing director of the Bully Hill mine, at Delamar. It was given to him a few years ago by Mrs. John C. Fremont herself. It was made by her own hands on the eve of her husband's pathfinding expedition to the west.

The flag differs from the ordinary emblem only in the field on which is wrought a large American eagle, done in embroidery of great delicacy and beauty. About the eagle are clustered the 26 stars that in 1841 represented the states in the union.

On the reverse side of the flag is pinned a silk scarf bearing the inscription in golden letters: "Rocky Mountains, 1841."

The banner is in a fairly good state of preservation, considering its age. Mr. Reardon, the owner, is jealous of its vault. He brought it to Redding a few weeks ago, when he arrived from New York to take the management of the Bully Hill mine.

UPSON ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Large Audience at Thomaston Hear the Speakers.

Thomaston, Ga., August 18.—(Special.) The Upson county oratorical contest, in which all of the public schools of Upson county except the pupils of R. E. Lee institute were contestants was held here in the auditorium, bringing together one of the largest gatherings in the interest of the contest that has been here in a long time, there being two medals offered as an incentive to the contestants. One medal was given by Captain James R. Atwater and was won by Grady Adams, of the Yatesville school; the other medal, offered by Professor F. F. Rowe, was carried off by Miss Reunette Richardson, of Flint Hill school.

The contest was a great success and will be more interesting next year, as there is a universal expression of satisfaction with the result of the contest and a growing sentiment in favor of its perpetuation. The people of Upson are wide awake on educational lines, as is evidenced by the rural school building and the efficient teachers employed. County School Commissioner Shruptine, deserves great credit for the manner in which he is handling the educational interest of Upson county.

Barnesville's First Bale.

Barnesville, Ga., August 18.—(Special.) Barnesville's first bale of this season's cotton was brought in late Thursday afternoon by Walter Ingram, of near Brent. This bale weighed 510 pounds and was bought by Mr. W. R. Baird at 13 1-8 cents per pound making a total of $66.93. The cotton was good class for the first of the season. Mr. Ingram is one of the large farmers of this section and will raise 100 bales of cotton and a large supply of produce this season.

The cotton is opening very fast in this section and if the rains do not continue too heavy the picking will begin in earnest in a few days.

Barnesville will afford a very fine market big portion of the crop of this immediate section and consequently an advanced price will be paid to secure it.

Games Played Today.

Nashville in Atlanta.
Birmingham in Montgomery.
Shreveport in Little Rock.
New Orleans in Memphis.

The Nashville baseball club dropped the third straight game to the Firecrackers yesterday afternoon before a small crowd, by the comfortable score of 3 to 0.

It was more like football weather than that suited for baseball. The weather was exactly suited, however, to good pitching and poor batting. The cloud covered sky made the field look dark and a high fast one could hardly be seen after leaving the pitcher's hand.

Zeller, who started in for Atlanta, realized this advantage, and pushed it for all it was worth. He lasted exactly six and two-third innings, due to an accident in the second inning, when a foul tip, fired through the box, hit him on the finger and put him out of commission for possibly a week, thus giving Nashville a better chance to work in more games.

Up to the time of Zeller's injury he was shooting the ball over in great shape. Five men had faced him and four of them had gone the strike out route. He was using a fast one, while his curve ball was breaking nicely for him.

After being sent to the bench he was relieved by Burnum, the score being 2 to 0 for Atlanta. One more run was made during the game, Atlanta securing that one.

Oscar Streit, who was recently released by Memphis, was in the box for Nashville, and outside of his wildness in the first inning, pitched a nice game. Atlanta secured three hits. One of these was a screaming three-base hit to center by George Winters. Another was a little pop bunt in front of the plate, which Noblett beat out. The third and last was in the nature of a scratch, a fast one to deep short by Bob Stafford. Atlanta scored two runs in the first inning. Joe Rickert walked and George Winters put one down the third base line for a sacrifice. Jansing tried to steal Rickert at third base, but the toss was wild and Rickert went on to third, while Winters made second with ease. Joe walked home, Winters going to second and Stafford walked, and Crosby tried the squeeze, which was bunted in some inexplainable way, as Winters remained on third, Stafford went to second and Crozier died on the first out, Elsey doing the tag act. Jordan now tried the squeeze, which worked nicely. Bennett tossing the manager out at first, while Winters scored the second run of the game.

In the third inning Atlanta scored the third and last run of the game. After Rickert did the fan, Winters tripled to deep center and Bob Stafford flew out to Crozier. Winters came home in a rush, for Noroum has lost his throwing arm.

Keenan was not in the game, as Mike was regretted to report that his work is his second game Thursday was not satisfactory. Joe was quiet throughout the game, and did little coaching.

Raymond was on the coaching line for Atlanta and was overanxious to go in when Zeller was hurt. After Burnum had scratched on the finger by a hot one, Raymond hurried to the dressing room and put on a white uniform in place of his gray road suit, in order to be ready for work should he be called in. He was not needed.

New Players for Vaughan.

Montgomery, Ala., August 18.—It is understood in baseball circles tonight that Lee and Bush, of the Montgomery team, will be loaned to Manager Vaughan, of the Birmingham team, for the remainder of the season. There have been no new developments in the situation of the six striking players of the Birmingham team, who have been indefinitely suspended on account of their action in refusing to play last week because the manager had imposed a fine upon them.

The team is badly crippled by their absence and Manager Vaughan is trying out several players of the abandoned Tri-State League. The team was still further weakened today by the retirement of Catcher Matthews, who was injured in the first inning of today's game.

Walter Egan Defeated.

Chicago, August 18.—George F. Clingman, of the Homewood Club, furnished a surprise here today by defeating Walter E. Egan, former western champion, in a runaway match, by 5 up and 3 to play. This follows Chandler Egan's defeat by E. E. Giles. This leaves the tournament without an Egan in the finals, and for this it holds the record, for never has such a thing occurred locally in a tournament in which they have been entered in the last two years.

Manager Stahl Suspended.

Cleveland, August 18.—Manager Stahl, of the Washington American League baseball club, received notice of his suspension for three days by President Ban Johnson, of the American League. The action on the part of President Johnson was taken as a result of an attack on Umpire Connolly at the close of a game between the Cleveland and Washington clubs at Washington several days ago.

Benefit for Earl Kiser.

Dayton, Ohio, August 18.—The crack automobile racers in the country will appear in Dayton August 26 in the big benefit races for Earl Kiser, the champion automobile driver who lost a leg in an accident at the Cleveland races recently. Automobile clubs of all the big cities have asked to participate in the benefit.

ATLANTA GETS PELICAN GAMES

Memphis and New Orleans Play in Atlanta Monday.

Memphis, Tenn., August 18.—(Special.)—Arrangements were concluded tonight whereby the New Orleans and Memphis teams will supply Atlanta with baseball for the first three days of next week. The teams leave here Sunday night, and will offer double-header attractions Monday and Tuesday afternoons as a means of drawing the fans, while the Firecrackers are absent.

Manager Frank said tonight that he had arranged to finish the season at Piedmont park with his Champion Pelicans, who are already regarded here as having won the pennant, so complete was their triumph today over the locals. His schedule, however, is not complete, and, in some instances, would interfere with Manager Jordan's regular dates.

Frank is negotiating for the sale of several of the men who have helped to place the team in such a high position, the latest dicker coming from Washington for Joe Stanley, who may be slated for another major league trial, if Frank's price is paid. Frank confirmed reports of the sale of Hahn to the New York Nationals, and Dygert to the Philadelphia Americans.

Johnson Made Home Run With One Man on Base.

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 18.—Little Rock won from the Pirates today because of Watt's superb pitching. The feature of the game was Johnson's home run in the ninth inning with one man on base. Welkart, who has been kept out by quarantine, rejoined his team today. Score:

SMASHED RIBS FOR WEBB JAY

Famous Auto Driver Thrown Into Fence by His Machine.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 18.—Webb Jay, of Cleveland, was probably fatally injured at Kenilworth Park today in the 10-mile automobile race. At the three-quarters of the fourth mile Jay's machine crashed through the fence down an embankment of 15 feet and into a pond of water. What caused the accident is unknown. It is believed, however, that Jay was blinded by dust and steered into the fence. He was driving about a mile a minute when the accident happened.

Jay was racing with Lyttle and Burman. At the three-quarter turn Jay was third and the dust cloud of the other two cars hung over him. Just at the three-quarters the track had been banked with dirt taken from the excavation which had left a deep hole just beyond the fence.

Heavy rains had transformed the hole into a deep pond. Just as Jay rounded the turn his car crashed through the fence, down the 15-foot embankment and into the water. Jay, unconscious, would have been drowned had not two spectators sitting on the fence nearby gone to his rescue and dragged him out.

He was taken to the German hospital, where it was found that nine ribs were broken, one of his lungs was punctured and his right thigh was fractured. Pneumonia and pleurisy will set in within twenty-four hours and if he survives them he may live, the surgeons say.

Jay's car is submerged, only the gasoline tank being above water. No examination of it can be made to learn if the tires burst.

Burnman and Lyttle continued racing to the seventh mile before they discovered that Jay was injured. They stopped then and the race was called off.

Fully 5,000 persons attended the race today.

Jay won the first heat of the Buffalo derby 5 miles in 5:09 3-5. Montague Roberts won the second heat in 5.27.

Lyttle won the 5 mile open in 5:34. Fred Tone was second. Lyttle also won the 5-mile open for stripped touring cars in 5:19. George Salzman was second. Fred Tone was third.

Barney Oldfield drove a 5-mile exhibition in 4:41 3-5.

Charlotte, N. Y., August 18.—The deciding race of the series for the possession of the Canada cup, the yacht trophy which is being fought for by the Temeraire, the Canadian challenger, and the Iroquois, the American defender, was won today by the American boat. The wind was about 6 miles an hour and was favorable to the American yacht.

Four to One Shot Won at Saratoga.

Texer, a Forty to One Shot, Made Running and Cut Out Fast Pace to Stretch When Incantation Came Through.

Saratoga, August 18.—Today's stake event was won by Andrew Miller's Incantation, a 4-to-1 shot, in a hot finish. Taxer, a 40-to-1 shot, made the running and cut out a pretty fast pace to the stretch. There Incantation, who had been lying well back, came through and fought it out with Taxer to the finish line, winning by a head in a drive.

The fifth also developed a close finish between Tangle and Whimsical, both heavily backed. There was much rough riding in this. Tangle and Whimsical bumping each other down the stretch. College Girl came to grief on the stretch run. Fountain, who rode her, and Shaw made protests of foul, but the stewards dismissed both. Two favorites won.

SOUTHERN BULLS ASSISTED COTTON

Shorts Covered on Bullish Private Crop Condition Reports.

Cables Were Higher and Lancashire Strike Was Finally Reported Averted—Market at Close Was Steady, 9 to 12 Points Higher.

CHRONICLE'S CROP AND WEATHER REPORT.

Following is The New York Financial Chronicle's weekly crop and weather report, received over private leased wire by Messrs. Ware & Leland:

"New York, August 18.—Our telegraphic advices this afternoon from the south denote that in some sections the weather has been less favorable during the week. In the southwest, where rain has fallen, the precipitation has been light as a rule and over much of Texas there has been no rain. Along the gulf and in some districts along the Atlantic it is claimed there has been too much moisture. Reports from Arkansas denote an improvement in the crop, but from Alabama there are complaints of rust and shedding."

New York, August 18.—The cotton market after another sharp advance early ruled rather irregular and closed at a moderate reaction from the best, though prices still showed a net gain of 9 to 12 points. Sales were estimated at 550,000 bales. The opening was firm at an advance of 2 points, and inside of the first half hour the market had reached a net gain of 25@26 points with October cotton selling at 10.75 or a little more than half a cent above the low prices of the previous day. There was active covering by smaller shorts, renewed by southern bulls, and a scattering wire and commission house demand on the advance which was attracted by higher cables, another bullish private estimate of the crop's condition placing it at 73.3 per cent, against 75 last month, and reports that the Lancashire strike had been finally averted. On the advance there was a renewal of bear pressure, also considerable realizing and the market worked off several points, with local bears becoming more aggressive toward the close when, however, there was also covering by early sellers and some bull support. The final tone was steady at about 11 to 13 points off from the best. The weather continued dry and hot in the southwest, with rains in other sections and southern spot markets were officially reported unchanged to 1-8c higher.

New Orlsans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, August 18.—Spot cotton steady. Sales 425 bales including 125 to arrive. Quotations unchanged.

Futures opened strong with prices 17 to 21 points higher than yesterday's closing, influenced by the earkly improvement of 19 English points in Liverpool. Heavy buying orders from prominent bulls and the outside public caused a further advance of 4@5 points. Later in the session realizing sales by satisfied longs resulted in a decline of 18 to 20 points. In the trading the fluctuations were numerous and fairly wide. The market closed dull near the bottom, the list showing net gains of 6 to 7 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, August 18.—Bleached goods started another upward movement in the dry goods market today when prominent lines were moved up 1-4c per yard. Buyers consider prices on all cotton goods have gone too high. Today they confined purchases to small lots for immediate use. Prints were again in heavy demand. Stocks at first hands are exhausted. Cotton yarns of lower and medium counts are advancing despite the easier quotations for cotton.

The Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, August 18, 12:15 p. m.—Cotton, spot, demand limited, with prices firm; middling uplands 5.80; sales 4,000 bales; American 3,400; speculation and export 200; receipts none.

COTTON—Europe only follows the advance on compulsion; that is, they do not credit the reports of deterioration in the crop. They expect heavy receipts of new cotton will soon be in evidence, giving a larger supply than can be sold at present prices. Acting on these views, the Liverpool market did not fully respond to the advance of our market yesterday, but the American buyers had faith, and bought so freely that the smaller short interest was forced to cover during the first hour. At the resulting advance, there was naturally realizing on the part of the longs who took advantage of the jump to take profits. From this point a slow reaction set in as all were waiting for indications of rain over Texas. Unless these rains come the market will again be higher. The spot market was quiet at 15 points advance.

World's Visible Supply of Cotton.

New Orleans, August 18.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, made up from special cable and telegraphic advices, compares the figures of this week with last week, last year and the year before.

It shows a decrease for the week just closed of 86,423, against a decrease of 104,546 last year and a decrease of 134,761 year before last.

The total visible 2,701,289, against 2,787,712 last week, 1,252,235 last year and 1,324,677 year before last.

Of this the total of American cotton is 1,676,289, against 1,712,712 last week, 506,285 last year and 580,677 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,025,000, against 1,075,000 last week, 746,000 last year and 744,000 year before last.

The total world's visible supply of cotton, as above, shows a decrease compared with last week of 86,423, an increase compared with last year of 1,449,004, and an increase compared with year before last of 1,376,612.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton, as above, there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,515,000, against 692,000 last year and 690,000 year before last; in Egypt 52,000 against 65,000 last year and 5,000 year before last; in India 673,000, against 361,000 last year and 436,000 year before last; and in the United States 461,000 against 134,000 last year and 194,000 year before last.

Ware & Leland.

WHEAT—Clearing weather in the northwest brought about declines at the start, the Minneapolis market working off to some extent and selling orders being sent here from that quarter. There was some buying on the bullish India news, while the strength in corn started scattered shorts covering, but cash houses and local bears sold with considerable freedom, the market turning quite heavy late in the day, although there was talk of No. 2 red being worked for export in New York, but only a small amount, while weekly clearances showed some increase over last week. The market presents a heavy appearance, sentiment is bearish on the belief that good weather will prevail in the northwest and expectations of a larger movement of winter wheat. The foreign news seems to fall flat and should any sharp rallies take place we would favor sales.

CORN—Trade was small at the start, prices working off slightly, but a cash grain house hold September and there was free buying of that month by Patten, who is bullish on the situation, due to the big cash demand. December and May displayed a little strength, but eased off with September toward the close. Crop prospects are fine, but the situation from a cash standpoint is such that short sales appear hazardous, and we think it prudent to go slow on the deferred futures unless good-sized advances appear.

OATS—Oats displayed a little more strength in sympathy with corn, a better cash demand and the belief that receipts may work off some. Sentiment is a little more bullish and prices may work up slightly.

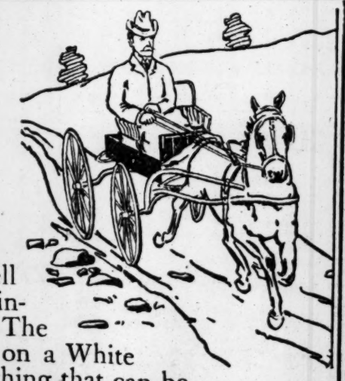
PROVISIONS—A good cash trade was reported, but pork weakened, allowing of declines in lard and ribs, although should further weakness develop, the packers will undoubtedly extend support.

STOCKS—London was irregular this morning and same may be said of the opening here. The feature of the early trading was American Locomotive. This stock continued active all day, but closed at a decline of over a point. It is the intention of the Locomotive pool to establish their stock on a higher price level than it has yet reached. The movement in that stock is more than justified by the earnings of the company which, we are informed, will be equal almost to 20 per cent on the common. After the usual early strength the market sold off. The pressure was directed against those issues which have been particularly prominent of late. The reaction was generally attributed to the uncertainty in regard to peace negotiations at Portsmouth. This was an excuse for a reaction. Another disturbing influence was the prospect for a very unfavorable bank statement tomorrow. The money market will bear watching. Today's reaction was the logical sequence of the advance which has taken place lately. It is possible that the decline will go a little further, but there are many indications that those who sell stock tomorrow will regret it. We believe that this country is on the eve of the greatest speculative era in its history.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—Liverpool cables were stronger than expected and had a great deal in influencing a stronger market. There was evidence of short covering, which helped along the advance. Large portion of advance lost after this support was withdrawn. Spot market in the south are steady with moderate transactions noted. Except for an area of low barometer in the southwest the map was clear with very high temperatures ruling in Texas. Elsewhere the conditions were favorable, though some light precipitation visited the eastern belt, where conditions were cloudy and showery. It is regarded as an absolute certainty that the crop has deteriorated during the month of August, especially in its fruitage power. The cotton goods trade is at a very high state of prosperity. These conjectures with possibility of further reports of crop disaster will tend to keep prices strong and we believe a higher level will soon be reached in the option list.

White Star Buggy



Finish.

So far as finish goes, it's easy to tell if it is the sort of finish that will last. The fine, smooth grain on a White Star Buggy is the thing that can be thoroughly tested by hard, steady usage.

And it proves what conscientious care and workmanship achieves.

SESSION OPENED WITH WHEAT EASY

Clearing Weather in Northwest Brought Out Liberal Offerings.

No Recuperative Ability Shown, September Closing Weak, 1 3-8c Lower—September Corn Closed Firm, 1-4c Higher on Commission House Buying.

Chicago, August 18.—Clearing weather in the northwest eliminated speculative interest in wheat and left the market dull and easy. September closed 1 3-8c down. September corn is up 1-4c. Oats are off a shade. Provisions closed 2 1-2 @17 1-2c lower.

An early indication of weakness in northwestern markets was reflected here by an initia ldecline in Septemoer wheat of 3-8@1-2c to 1-2@5-8c at 82 1-8@82 1-4c. A period of selling at the outset forced the option still further down the scale. Rains in the spring wheat districts having seemingly been responsible for the recent advance, its cessation as the signal for a return of bearish sentiment. Traders who had been led into buying by former conditions proceeded to liquidate their holdings. The prospects of heavier receipts in the southwest likewise exerted an influence toward lower prices. September declined to 81 1-4c, and, although some short lines were covered at that figure, the market acquired no buoyancy. The close was easy with September a shade above the low point at 81 1-4@81 3-8. Bradstreet's exports of wheat and flour for the week were 1,069,000 busnels, against 1,703,000 last year. Clearances equaled 71,000, against 41,700 for the same days last week. Primary receipts 565,000, against 781,000 a years ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported 266 cars, against 356 last week and 126 a year ago.

A good demand for corn for export was a good bull influence. Prices were easier under scattering sales by small holders, who were pessimistic under promises of a large yield. The taking on of a large line of old crop September delivery by a prominent commission house brought about a mild reversal of sentiment and advanced all deliveries. September new, which was down 1-8@1-4c at the opening at 52 3-4@52 7-8c, gained a cent, but reacted and closed steady at 53 1-4c. Receipts 305 cars, 136 contract grade.

Scattered selling by commission houses caused a shade of a los sin oats, after which prices did not vary much. The bulk of trading consisted in changing. Demand for export was reported good, and this had a sustaining influence. September ranged between 25 7-8@26 1-8c, closing steady at 26c. Receipts, 262 cars.

Provisions, which were steady at lower prices, suffered some realizing sales. Packers favored the buying side, and there was a moderate shipping demand. September pork closed 17 1-2 off at $14.15; lard down 5s at $7.72 1-2 and ribs 2 1-2c lower at $8.72 1-2.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat 67 cars; corn 296 cars; oats 232 cars.

Modern Miller Crop Outlook.

Following is The Modern Miller, St. Louis, crop outlook, special wire to Smith & Martin:

"The present movement of winter wheat indicates that the wheat running on old sales consignments to the market is about cleaned up. Farmers are busy with fall work and show no disposition to market wheat. They are holding their best grain. A larger movement is probably after fall plowing and seeding is finished. This work is progressing well under favorable conditions. An increased acreage in wheat is generally indicated."

The Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:—

A few days ago we published in your paper an advertisement, calling attention to three special contracts issued by our company. On the following day we received a request from a gentleman from a distant portion of the state for specimen policies of the three forms referred to therein, and in a subsequent interview one of our Special Agents secured his policy for $20,000.00, with annual premium payments aggregating nearly $1,000.00. This is only one of the many cases of a like nature. We consider The Constitution a most excellent medium for advertising our business.

Yours very truly,
BAGLEY & WILLET,
General Agents.

And still there are people who say that advertising will not pay! What mistakes they make.

The petition of A. F. Herndon, J. H. Crew, M. W. Woodall, W. A. Aderhold and W. H. Jackson, all of said state and county, respectively shows:

PRICES CRUMBLED IN LATE TRADING

After an Unsuccessful Attempt to Restrain the Market.

Large Reactional Inroads Were Made in the Values of Representative Leaders All Through the List—The Closing Was Easy.

New York, August 18.—Precautionary measures to preserve profits in the shape of selling to realize overbore the new buying demand today and gave the stock market of the day a reactionary tone, as a whole. Some question as to the possible effect of the outcome of the peace conference at Portsmouth and the large inroads of the week on the cash reserves of the banks emphasized the disposition to reduce commitments. The market continued to show a firm undertone which was manifested by the progressive dullness of the trading as prices declined. The selling, in fact, was not pursued aggressively, and the market had frequent periods of recovery. St. Paul was the conspicuous instance of early strength, and it was made to open at a wide advance over last night, while active selling began almost immediately at all other points in the list. Late in the day an enormous accumulation of Pennsylvania set in and this served to hold the level of prices for a time at other points. Reading went to a new high level during the day. This about exhausts the list of strong stocks among the active market leaders. Otherwise, the pressure to sell was quite general, but was most marked in the latest speculative favorites. The Pacifics were especially affected. While the market showed resistance from time to time, prices were tending downwards at the close, which was about the lowest of the day.

THE TRADE SITUATION.

New York, August 18.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Fall trade, while not yet under full headway, is steadily gathering force. Buyers are more numerous. Good weather for the harvesting and threshing, except in portions of the northwest, continues to reveal very favorable results in both spring and winter wheat sowings. Combined cereal yields probably will exceed all past years in both quantity and quality. Relatively high prices for agricultural products, manufactured materials and staple products do not deter buying operations. Collections on the whole have improved slightly, and even in the south, except in a small area of the fever infected zone, trade and collections are alike better than anticipated. Currency shipments to the country are increasing, but have had no particular effect on money rates as yet.

"The tone of southern advices is rather better than last week, and certainly better than the early stories of cotton crop disaster foreshadowed.

"Features at eastern centers are the activity of cotton goods and advances in many makes. It is emphatically a sellers' market for cotton goods at New York and Boston.

"On the Pacific coast business is fairly active at all points. Railway operations, swelled by large crop and industrial movement, are of very full volume.

"Iron and steel trade advices are, if anything, rather more encouraging.

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending August 17, number 147, against 166 last week, and 203 in the like week of 1904. In Canada failures number 29, as against 32 last week and 18 last year.

"Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending August 17, are 1,068,519 bushels, against 865,002 last week and 1,703,047 this week last year. From July 1st to date the exports are 6,307,184 bushels, against 9,549,818 last year.

"Corn exports for the week are 1,177,039 bushels, against 1,182,441 last week and 520,362 a year ago. From July 1 to date the exports of corn are 7,077,243 bushels, against 3,799,493 in 1904."

Dun's Review.

New York, August 18.—R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

"Assurance of prosperity on the farms is general and accompanied by confidence in all departments of trade and industry. Contracts are placed for distant delivery and commercial payments are more prompt. It is also gratifying to note that pending and threatening labor controversies are less numerous, a higher scale was adopted at glass factories and the attractive wages paid to harvest hands have reduced the ranks of the unemployed to a minimum. Jobbing trade is brisk, especially in dry good, and all the large cities report a full attendance of outside buyers. Prices are well sustained by the brisk demand. Mills and factories are well employed, little idle machinery being noted in the prominent industries, although iron and steel dispatches are still somewhat irregular. Traffic by rail and water is very heavy, railway earnings thus far reported for August exceeding last year's figures by 6.6 per cent, and foreign trade at jhns port for the last week showed a gain of $2,704,560 over exports a year ago and an increase of $322,957 in imports. It is becoming a year of superlatives in the business world, prices of the sixty most active railway securities have reached the highest point on record; output of pig iron in the first half of 1905 not only far surpassed any preceding six months' production, but exceeded every full year prior to 1898, prices of hides are at the highest position since the civil war; wool quotations have not been as strong since the early 80s; shipments of footwear from Boston are close to the maximim, and, including all shoe centers, the movement this year is beyond precedent.

"Commercial failures this week in the United States are 218, against 222 last week and 226 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 28, against 19 last week and 24 last year."

ARE AMERICANS QUITTING WHISKY IN FAVOR OF BEER?

WASHINGTON, August 18.—(Special.)—Are Americans giving up whisky for beer?

The figures of the internal revenue bureau, just made up, indicate that the tendency is that way, and the belief of officials in Washington is that this is true.

The preliminary report of Commissioner Yerkes for the fiscal year 1905, which ended June 30, 1905, shows that the consumption of whisky was materially less and that of beer immensely greater than in the previous fiscal year. There were withdrawn for consumption during the year of distilled spirits other than made from fruits 116,143,732 gallons as against 116,848,372 gallons in the fiscal year 1904. This is a decrease in whisky consumed of 704,040 gallons. There was likewise a decrease in the quantity of fruit spirits consumed, the total for the last fiscal year having been 1,595,021 gallons against 1,637,303 gallons in the year before.

The consumption of beer was 49,459,540 barrels for the last fiscal year, against 48,208,133 barrels in the fiscal year 1904. The increase is 1,251,407 barrels, each barrel containing 31 gallons. This is 37,542,210 gallons of the foaming beverage greater than in the past year, and represents about one-half an extra gallon for every man, woman and child in the United States. As women and children do not all drink all the increase is on the part of the men.

H. A. Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury, is one high official who believes that whisky consumption is decreasing and with its decrease is a decrease in drunkenness. He says he believes the decrease in drunkenness is due in great part to the substitution of beer for whisky. On this subject Mr. Taylor said: "My observation, personal and official, is that beer is taking the place of whisky to a large extent and that drunkenness is on the decrease, largely as a result. Right in the social life of Washington there is far less whisky consumed now than there was a few years ago, while the lighter drinks and beverages, principally beer and wine, are on the increase. Beer, for instance, never produces drunkenness unless a person makes a glutton of himself. I lived for years in Wisconsin among the German people there. I never knew a more sober or orderly people, and yet they drank beer plentifully and freely and so did their wives and children, if the little ones wanted it. In my opinion it is the treating habit that brings about more drunkenness than any other cause, and as the drinking of beer is considered not so high-toned as whisky, youngsters starting out in life do not offer beer to those they are treating. With a change of sentiment there will be less whisky drunk and far less drunkenness."

As the cost of whisky is so much greater than the cost of beer the probability is that the decrease in the consumption of whisky was large enough financially to pay for the increase in beer and that there was no financial increase in the cost of the drinks of this country. English papers are full of interesting gossip about the decline of the drink bill of that country, and many interesting reasons are given. In 1899 the national drink bill of England attained to the enormous figure of £185,927,000, but in five years it had declined £17,000,000. In 1900 the consumption of spirits was 1.99 gallons per head, while in 1905 it had dwindled to 0.95 a head. The decline in the consumption of beer was not near so great, the figures in 1900 being 31 1-2 gallons per head and in 1904 29 gallons, a loss of 2 1-2 gallons in a year.

The board of trade declares that the decrease is not due to any fresh reform wave over Great Britain, but wholly to hard times, men having cut down their drink bill to meet the necessities of life. The assertion is that drinking follows the course of prosperity, like anything else. Others attribute the decrease to a wave of sobriety. Temperance workers especially hold this view.

The temperance people are willing to concede that some part of the decrease is due to trade depression, high taxation of whiskies and fermented beverages, but at the same time they declare there has been a change in the habits of the Englishmen and that temperance appears to be on the increase, especially in the matter of ardent spirits.

The decrease of the use of ardent spirits in both America and England is of peculiar interest. The increase of the use of beer in America is, it is asserted by some, merely the catching up by Americans with their friends across the sea. The English and German, both of Teutonic origin, and the strongest race of people in Europe, are great consumers of beer. The Latin races drink wine, the Russian strong whisky, which makes him dull, and the Turk, the lowest of all in the intellectual scale, uses no alcoholic beverages at all, but lives on coffee.

In 1863 the consumption of beer in the United States was 2,006,625 barrels, but when the census was taken in 1900 it had jumped to 39,330,849 barrels. Now it stands at near 50,000,000 barrels. The per capita consumption in 1863 was about 1.85 gallons; in 1900 it was 16 gallons and now it is close to 20 gallons. The consumption of distilled liquors has within the same period decreased 10 per cent, and is still decreasing, a reassuring fact to temperance people all over the country, who are beginning to look with less fear upon beer than heretofore.

HOW MANY NIPS MAKE A DRUNK?

Judge Ormond Passes Puzzling Question Up to Higher Court.

How many drinks does it take to make the average man drunk? How many drinks to make him forget about his money? Does or can whisky have the effect of making a man forget one thing of importance and remember many things of minor importance.

Upon these questions hinged the decision in the case of Dr. O. H. Cantrell, a dentist, against C. A. Holt, the night clerk of the Jackhon hotel, for larceny after trust, and Judge Ormond decided it was a little too perplexing for him, and passed it up to a higher court.

The trial was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It came out in the evidence that Dr. Cantrell, and two other men, engaged a room in the Jackson hotel on South Pryor street Monday afternoon, and that one of the gentlemen deposited the sum of $40 with the night clerk, Holt.

According to the evidence, these gentlemen stayed in the room Monday afternoon and night, practically all of Tuesday and part of Wednesday, and during their stay there was much hilarity.

Mr. Jackson, proprietor of the hotel, said he went up to the room Wednesday to investigate the noises that were emanating therefrom, and said the room looked as if a herd of wild bulls might have engaged in a pitched battle there. He said holes were cut in the pillows and the feathers spread around the room; holes were cut in the mattresses, the floor was a mess and cuspidors were where vases should be and vice versa.

Cantrell's friend, who deposited the money with the clerk, said he drew out $20 of the money, but no more. Holt said he drew out $20 in a lump, and the rest in small sums from time to time. He said he had torn up the receipts.

The defendant tried to prove that the prosecutor was drunk, and did not remember about drawing out the other money, but the prosecutor, while acknowledging that he had taken several drinks "from time to time, sometimes two or three in an hour, and sometimes two or three in twenty minutes," said that he was not drunk.

Judge Ormond decided it was a case the merits of which a jury should decide, and therefore bound Holt over under a bond of $200, which was given.

BONE ESCAPES THE ROPE'S END

Petition of 1,300 Names Secures Commutation of Sentence.

The prison commission yesterday heard the application for clemency in the case of Jack Bone, under sentence to hang in Floyd county, on August 25, and, after the hearing, decided to recommend a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment.

Bone was represented before the commission by F. W. Copeland, of Rome and R. R. Shropshire, of Atlanta. His two sisters were present during the hearing. The petition requesting executive clemency on his behalf was signed by about 1,300 citizens of Floyd and Fulton counties. In making its report to the governor, the commission used the following language:

"Many facts and circumstances relating to the mental condition of the defendant have been stated in the affidavits of reputable citizens, since the trial and sentence, which would have authorized and might have induced the jury to make the recommendation to mercy if they had been put in evidence in the trial.

"After the first sentence, a commission of three reputable physicians, appointed by the governor on application since the trial, to examine Bone as to his mental condition, reported January 5, 1905, that he was insane. On this report, he was sent to the state sanatorium, and recently he was pronounced sane by the superintendent of the asylum confinement, and was resentenced to death. The superintendent and seven assistant physicians, with the employees of the sanatorium, petition for commutation to life imprisonment.

"The judge who sentenced him the second time and about 1,000 of the most respectable citizens of Floyd county and about 300 of the citizens of Fulton county also urge this executive clemency on the ground that there is, at least, grave doubt as to his mental responsibility at the time of the killing and his complete sanity now. In this case, it is believed the extreme penalty of death should not be inflicted."
